

The Political Pot

A Social Credit member of the last Legislature has failed to regain the nomination in his northern riding.

In the first upset in the current nominations, Lew King, who represented Fort George riding, lost out to school inspector Ray Williston of Prince George. The vote was 39 to 25.

Premier Bennett said today Mr. Williston will have to resign his position before he files nomination papers.

Mr. King is a general store owner on the John Hart Highway just north of Prince George.

Sidney Smith, former Kamloops MLA and president of the B.C. Liberal Association, has been named to head the Liberals' campaign committee for the entire province.

Bert Gargrave, who was a B.C. MLA in 1941 and 1945, and a well-known trade unionist, has been nominated by the CCF to contest the Toronto federal riding of Broadview.

Mr. Gargrave, whose younger brother Tony, was elected to his old seat of Mackenzie, is now Toronto international representative of the United Steel Workers of America.

Alf Dewhurst, LPP organizer and candidate in New Westminster, is on a tour of Vancouver Island.

His party will run candidates in Victoria, Cowichan-Newcastle, Alberni, Comox, Nanaimo, North Okanagan, Salmon Arm, Nelson-Creston, and maybe Kaslo-Slocan and Similkameen.

Dr. Larry Giovando, Nanaimo, PC member in the last House and a candidate again, is having his re-election bid hampered by illness.

A hotly-contested fight is looming in the Up-Island riding, which includes the Gulf Islands.

Ex-mayor Earle Westwood, expected to be a strong candidate, is being counted on to give the doctor stiff competition, and David Stupich, CCF candidate, is a strong contender.

It will be a six-way fight, with Tories, Socials, Liberals, CCF, LPP and an Independent participating.

TRUCE COMPROMISE POSSIBLE

Split Marks New Talks But Outlook Hopeful

Shooting War Promised By Non-Douks

Slocan Valley Wants Police Aid in Week

APPLEDALE, B.C. (BUP)—Slocan Valley residents gave the government one more week today to provide police protection against fanatical Doukhobors or suffer the consequences of "a shooting war."

The valley homesteaders had set Sunday as the deadline for the government to put a stop to Doukhobor arson raids and dynamitings but approved a seven-day "truce" after a mass meeting by 100 irate citizens.

A resolution drawn up at Sunday's meeting was forwarded to provincial Attorney General Robert Bonner and Federal Justice Minister Stuart Garson. It read:

"We, the non-Doukhobor residents of the Slocan Valley, demand the provincial government to provide us immediately with a adequate protection and strongly urge that a special detachment of police be stationed in the Slocan Valley."

One resident said, "A shooting war may break out" if the government failed to heed the demand.

The meeting also recommended that the government embark on an immediate relocation program for the Russian sect — a proposal Bonner may place before the federal government when he meets Garson Wednesday in Ottawa.

24TH FIVE — The meeting came on the heels of the 24th fire set in the recent outbreak of terrorism and violence in the fear-filled Nelson district. A store belonging to reformed Doukhobor Peter Plotnikoff was levelled by fire Saturday night at Krestova.

Residents of the valley have been patrolling at night armed with heavy-calibre rifles and shotguns to protect their homes against possible arson.

RCMP blamed a hard core of 200 radical Sons of Freedom Doukhobors for the arson, while the freedomsites in turn blamed "outsiders" for the acts.

Twenty-two homes, a community hall and a store were destroyed in the west Kootenay Doukhobor country in the latest outbreak of violence in the area.

Three railway express men, Stanley Eby, 20, Calgary; Ernest Edwards, Calgary, and James McKenna, Montgomery, suffered severe burns but are reported recovering satisfactorily.

Dorothea Corbett, 19, of Calgary, was cut by flying glass but was not detained in hospital.

Mrs. Julia Blake, 62, was killed by concussion as the blast hurled her 15 feet through the air to land beneath an ice car located near the station. Her husband, Charles J. Blake, 54, also thrown by the blast, is in critical condition in hospital with head injuries.

GEN. MARK CLARK OFFERS $100,000 FOR MIG PLANE

TOKYO (UP) — Gen. Mark V. Clark tonight offered $100,000 to the first Communist pilot who will deliver a Russian-built MIG-15 jet fighter to the United Nations in Korea.

The dramatic offer, applying also to "other Russian-built jet combat types," had a double-barreled purpose:

1. To wreck morale among Communist fighter pilots. 2. To obtain a late-model MIG for technical study.

The offer was made in radio broadcasts beamed to North Korea and Red China, and in leaflets dropped in northwest Korea, mainly in "MIG Alley" near the Yalu River border with Manchuria.

It offered $50,000 per MIG, with a bonus of $50,000 for the first pilot who accepts. Pilots were promised political refuge and assistance in going to any country they might desire.

Bread Price Up One Cent Here

Big City Bakeries Boost Loaf To 15 Cents at Retail Levels

Retail price of bread produced by two large city bakeries is now 15 cents, instead of 14.

The one-cent raise came into effect today. Others are expected to raise their prices in the next few days.

Bakers blame increased milling costs, higher freight rates, and wage demands of union help for the increase.

Both Weston's and Canadian Bakeries have instituted the new price. McGavin Bakeries to date are unchanged.

Just 10 days ago a hint of the price boost came from Vancouver, where the spokesman for a large baking concern said an increase was imminent. In a canvass of the major baking concerns in Victoria, any knowledge of such a development looming was denied.

Larger locally-owned bakeries met the change with varying views.

"Our prices are not up yet, but they probably will be in a few days," said one operator. "All bakeries will increase their prices. They should have been up months ago, and they'll be out of business in a year if they don't take the increase."

Another said he had no intention whatever of raising prices at present.

"I'm my own boss, no one tells me what to do, my overhead is low, and I'm contemplating no raise in price," he said.

"There is no need for it," he said. "The price of flour is lower than it was a year ago."

HOLOCAUST SEQUEL TO BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mother, Father Claw at Windows As Eight Children Die in Fire

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. (BUP)—Eight children tucked into bed after a birthday party died screaming a few hours later Sunday when fire trapped them in a frame house that burned like paper.

Canada's worst fire nightmare this year left the city dazed today as authorities tried to reconstruct the tragedy. The fire flared up so quickly no one could be sure what happened.

Firemen said the position of the charred bodies showed at least five of the children died as they were cut off from their only escape from the one-story, four-room house.

An overheated stove was believed to have caused the fire. The parents of five of the children suffered from third-degree burns and deep cuts after vain rescue attempts and were too shocked to be coherent.

Phillip Derry and his wife Winnifred, both 35, escaped by smashing windows. They clawed desperately at windows from the outside to rescue the shrieking children.

Even under sedatives in hospital, Mrs. Derry kept moaning, "My children, oh, my children." She accused herself in the deaths of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Trudel's three children, cousins of her own three boys and two girls.

The Trudel children had pleaded to stay at the Derry home after the party, and Mrs. Derry asked their parents to let them sleep there.

The dead Derry children were: Dorothy, 7; Eleanor, 3; Clifford, 4; Reginald, 5; John, one and a half. Their cousins were Wilma, Marianna, 11, and Dianne, who had just turned nine.

Wilma had rescued Dianne in 1947, when a fire razed the Trudel home in nearby East Korah.

"I never saw a more pitiful sight. We didn't have a chance to save them," provincial constable James A. Wood said. "The woman was crying hysterically and she didn't seem to mind that she was burned. The father was badly hurt, but he didn't seem to feel the pain."

UN Rejects Communist Plan on PW Repatriation

PANMUNJOM, Korea (UP) — United Nations and Communist truce negotiators split today on four points concerning the repatriation of prisoners under an armistice, but there was growing hope a compromise may be shaping up.

The points of disagreement were:

1. Which neutral country shall take charge of Communist prisoners who refuse to go home.

2. Whether these prisoners shall remain in Korea.

3. How long the prisoners shall remain in custody.

4. What is to happen, in the end, to those who refuse repatriation under any circumstances.

But it was believed in some quarters that a compromise was possible under which the UN would accept a Communist proposal to make India the neutral custodian of anti-repatriate prisoners and the Communists would agree that the prisoners be kept in Korea until their status has been determined finally.

Lt. Gen. William H. Harrison, senior UN delegate, rejected at a 52-minute truce meeting today a six-point Communist proposal by which prisoners who refuse repatriation would be taken to an unspecified country and kept there for six months. After that, the status of those who still refused to go home would be settled at a political conference.

Would Face 'Endless Captivity'

Harrison said this plan was designed merely to keep anti-repatriate prisoners in a foreign country until, "exhausted and discouraged," they realized they must either give themselves up or face "endless captivity."

But after the meeting, Harrison emphasized that the truce negotiations are just getting under way again and there is "no real basis for assuming the Communists will not negotiate in good faith."

The next session will be held at 11 a.m. Tuesday.

"Operation Little Switch," the exchange of sick and wounded prisoners, continued on a one-way basis today along with the truce talks.

The UN handed over 499 more Communist prisoners at the exchange centre here, including 50 mental cases. It will take until Friday for the delivery of the last 6,033 Communist prisoners the UN promised to free.

The Communists announced

Communist Plan in Detail

At the first resumed session, the Communists submitted their "compromise" plan. It provided:

1. Prisoners who accept repatriation, shall be exchanged within two months after the conclusion of an armistice.

2. Within the next month, prisoners who refused repatriation shall be sent to a neutral country.

3. Within the following six months, the Communists shall be given the opportunity to try to induce the prisoners to go home.

4. Those who agree to go home shall be repatriated speedily and without obstruction.

5. The disposition of prisoners who still refuse to go home after the six-month period shall be decided at the political conference which is to be held, under the armistice, to settle the overall issues resulting from the Korean War.

6. Each side shall pay the costs of sending its prisoners to a neutral country, keeping them there, and repatriating them.

In offering this plan, the Communists rejected the UN plan which is to make Switzerland the neutral custodian, keep the prisoners in Korea and decide their final status within 60 days. There would be no forced repatriation.

The UN delegation rejected the Communist plan informally as soon as it was submitted, and rejected it formally today.

"Your proposal appears to be merely an indirect way of coercing the prisoners to return to your control," Harrison told Communist senior delegate Gen. Nam Il.

"Your proposal . . . is neither reasonable nor constructive. It is unreasonable and obstructive. Your proposal is therefore unacceptable."

The Reds, Harrison said, are trying merely to keep up the detention of anti-repatriate prisoners "endlessly or until the day when, exhausted and discouraged, they are forced to accept the fact there is no alternative to endless captivity."

"The inevitable end," he said, "would be the return of the prisoners 'to a homeland to which they do not desire to return.'"

The day's session left the situation about as it had been last fall, on the surface, with the two truce teams sharply divided.

TONIGHT'S THE NIGHT

Sign Your Name Or You Won't Vote

Tonight's the deadline for getting your name on the B.C. voters' list.

If you're not on the list, you'll miss the chance to vote in Canada's most talked-about provincial election.

There are 50 registration centres for people of the Greater Victoria area. Directions can be obtained by telephoning the office of the registrar of voters, B6135. Some centres close at 5, others at 9 p.m.

If you miss both these deadlines, the registrar of voters' office at 310 Gordon Street (by the bus depot) will get names on the list up to midnight, the official closing time.

Only those who have received post cards confirming their last year's registration or who have registered at one of the neighborhood centres will be eligible to vote June 9.

Officials will not know the total number of voters in Greater Victoria until the voters' list is closed, but they guess 80,000 will be eligible.

They were looking into one of five volcanic peaks inside the gaping crater when it awakened with a smoking roar, blasting rocks into the air. Some were the size of a man's head. The children fled in terror.

Okanagan folks say they'll give th' gov'mint one more week t' clean up th' Doukhobor mess. They'll make a grand total of 2,341 weeks.

Truce talks are stalled at Panmunjom ag'in. Gettin' rid of them Red prisoners is a dang sight more trouble than catchin' 'em.

Feller sez, "Why's th' Socred gov'mint like a dizzy blonde?" "Well," I sez, "Well," he sez, "they're both lookin' fer man-dates."

OL' VIC SAYS:

ON THE TIMES

By ART STOTT

In clear weather the lights of Port Angeles sparkle like jewels on the black velvet of night across the Strait. At this season watchers on this side pick out a cluster that shines with exceptional strength above the ordinary illumination of the town. The people on the waterfront here nod sagely and remark: "Ball game on over there tonight."

That isn't the closest we Victorians come to our nearest neighbors. The ferry keeps bringing folk from Port Angeles to this city and taking crowds from Victoria to the Port. But we seem surprisingly disinterested in affairs across the 18 miles of water between us.

We have our casual contacts. Years ago a Port Angeles firm of car dealers used to invite a swimming team from Victoria to present a water show at Lake Crescent, which is beautiful and icy. The team members were fined and entertained at Lake Crescent and the hospitality was superlative. Those of us who went on those trips always said we ought to reciprocate and ought to know our hosts better. We're still saying it.

Occasionally, too, a ball club comes across for an exhibition game. There's some interchange between sports fishermen of the two centres. International service clubs have held joint meetings with Olympic Peninsula groups here and in Washington. And Port Angeles has put entries into our May 24 parades.

Generally, though, we leave each other alone—which may be one way of keeping good neighbors good. We don't get in each other's hair.

Worth Looking At

But there are a lot of interesting developments in Port Angeles of which we remain ignorant because we preserve this restrained attitude.

One of those developments is the "Democracy Is You" movement now in progress there. A brief story on it comes to me through an unidentified newspaper clipping without any covering letter.

According to that clipping, "Democracy Is You" is the title of a detailed guide to citizen action aided by the University of Washington's Bureau of Community Development and headed by Richard W. Poston. Recently published by Harper, the textbook describes how citizens can make an intensive and systematic study of life in their own community to learn how they may improve it culturally, economically, socially and spiritually.

In Port Angeles more than 600 citizens, reportedly a genuine cross section, are taking an enthusiastic part in the study of their community.

At weekly mass-meetings of 400 to 500 they hear fact-finding committees report, break up into buzz-sessions and then recommend action. And they manage, it appears, to get somewhere with their proposals.

You contrast such group activity with the way special interest organizations function here. In Victoria, home of a thousand organizations, each club seems to be isolated. It makes its appeal to particular individuals. They take an intensive interest in its activities—often distorting them out of all proportion to their importance.

But on straight community activity, how whole-hearted is Greater Victoria? Maybe we could learn something from Port Angeles and its application of "Democracy Is You."

Too Big for Cohesion?

Certainly we seem to need some cohesion in civic thinking. Town meetings here on subjects of overall interest are attended largely for their entertainment value and comedy content, or attended only by the converted who preach to themselves. When the Community Chest held its annual meeting, the audience was composed only of representatives of different agencies. Night council meetings fell off because there weren't enough fireworks to sustain interest.

Maybe we're due for a little injection of "Democracy Is You," but most likely it wouldn't take. Movements like that have a better chance in places of Port Angeles' size—something under 20,000. We're too sophisticated. And anyhow, we're too busy with meetings of our own little groups. Why bother with democracy being us. We've got it, haven't we? What's the use of finding how it works and how it might work better?

Mexican Mine Blast Toll May Hit 31

Rescuers Dig for 14 Bodies; 11 Recovered

AGANGUEO, Mexico (AP)—Rescue teams recovered 11 bodies from the smoking mouth of the burned-out American Smelting Company silver mine near here early today. They dug for 14 others listed as dead in a fierce fire and explosion Saturday.

Six other miners were unaccounted for.

Company officials estimated it would take several days to dig out all the victims of the disaster, the worst in any Mexican mine in recent years. There was no possibility that any of the 14 known to be below ground could be alive, rescue chief Antonio Madrazo said.

The 68-year-old mine, in mountains near this tiny village 80 miles west of Mexico City, was turned into a blazing furnace 500 feet below the surface when a series of electrical shorts set fire to electric cables and shafts and then touched off dust and gas explosions.

About 300 men were in the mine at the time. Some 200 in the upper levels escaped. Another 70, choking with smoke were led to safety during rescue operations in the darkness Saturday night. Those who died were smothered by smoke, not burned, officials said.

Four Mexican government mine officials started an investigation of the disaster.

The mine yielded zinc, gold and iron, as well as silver.

Iran Police Chief Found Murdered

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—Iran's government today blamed a group of retired army officers and government opponents for the murder of National Police Chief Brig. Gen. Mahmud Afshartus, found strangled in a roadside grave Sunday.

A communique issued by Col. Hosseingholi Ashrafi, military governor of Tehran, said the names of the alleged slayers and those who plotted the crime will be disclosed later.

The communique said investigation and confessions of those responsible led to the discovery of Afshartus' body six days after his mysterious disappearance in the heart of Tehran.

The body was found several miles northeast of the capital in a shallow grave. A rope around his neck, his hands and feet were bound and his mouth was stuffed with a handkerchief.

Medical examiners said he had died at least four days earlier, probably by strangulation April 20.

U.K.-Egypt Start Suez Dispute Talks

CAIRO, Egypt, April 27 (UP)—Britain and Egypt opened negotiations today aimed at settling the long dispute over British troops in the Suez Canal zone.

An Egyptian spokesman said the atmosphere was "very cordial" at the one hour and 20-minute meeting.

Premier Mohammed Naguib, Ambassador Sir Ralph Stevenson and Gen. Sir Brian Robertson made general statements, an Egyptian communique reported at the end of the session. "Another meeting will be held on Tuesday at the presidency."

Naguib headed the Egyptian delegation accompanied by four military advisers. Britain was represented by Stevenson, Robertson and Air Chief Marshal Sir Arthur Saunders.

Helicopters as Busses Forecast Within 5 Years

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (CP)—Two-engine helicopters cruising 150 miles an hour will be flying metropolitan and inter-city bus service in many parts of the world in next five years, it was predicted today.

The prediction was made by Jack Dymond of Montreal, director of engineering for Trans-Canada Airlines, who heads the sixth International Technical Air Transport conference's four-day symposium on helicopters here.

Dymond drew this picture of what the public can expect: Bussed helicopters carrying 30 passengers will be offering a new kind of rapid transport free of traffic jams, but without frills, between cities up to 200 miles apart. Passengers will carry their own luggage. The standard of comfort will be about the same as on modern busses.

Fares will be about the same as at present airline tickets, plus the cost of car transportation from airport to city.

HEARING-AID OF THE WEEK

By B. S. H. TYE

PARAVOX "TRANSONIC"

"Public imagination has been captured by the Transistor, those tiny capsule-size bits of germanium that have created a wide sensation in the field of electronics. Much in demand by the military, their first general application for civilian use is in the field of hearing-aids," announced Fred J. Wonders, President of Paravox, Inc.

"The new Paravox 'TRANSONIC' hearing-aid uses three transistors, no vacuum tubes are used. The chassis of the 'TRANSONIC' is a special design, produced for use with transistors, not a 'makeover' of an older tube chassis," said Mr. Wonders.

"Because of its extraordinary economy in operation and maintenance, because of its efficient small size, light weight, many hearing-aid users, present and potential, will be attracted by the 'TRANSONIC.' (Tests have proved that one small Mallory 40c battery may operate this new hearing-aid for 900 hours.)"

Free of case noise, reproducing sound with clarity and high fidelity tone, wherever shown this new all-transistor hearing-aid is being enthusiastically accepted. It is available through authorized Paravox dealers throughout the country. Locally it is available through Victoria Hearing-Aid Co., 326 Yarrow Bldg. (formerly known as Pemberton Bldg.), 625 Fort St., Victoria, B.C.

Red Embassies Spy Centres, Says American

Hints U.S. May
Break Off Relations

WASHINGTON (UP)—A Senate foreign relations sub-committee today accused Communist countries of using their embassies here as centres for espionage and subversion.

The subcommittee also charged that the Communists have violated customary diplomatic practices by harassing and spying on American diplomats behind the Iron Curtain through the use of phone taps and listening devices placed in the walls of U.S. embassies.

Subcommittee chairman Alexander Wiley (R., Wis.) demanded that the United States crack down on the Red game of diplomatic sabotage by adopting the "principle of reciprocity," or treating Red diplomats exactly as Americans are treated in Communist countries.

As a final weapon, Wiley hinted that the government might consider breaking off diplomatic relations with Russia and its satellites. Wiley carefully avoided advocating such a course, but he said it is "a subject requiring the most detailed and continuing review."

He cautioned the government against letting down its guard against the Red espionage tactics because of the current Soviet "peace" campaign.

"On the basis of the past Soviet record," he said, "it can safely be assumed that the Soviet and satellite countries will continue to view their installations here as extremely useful spots from which to conduct espionage and subversion."

Korea Veterans Get Tumultuous Ottawa Welcome

OTTAWA (CP)—The Royal Canadian Regiment's 1st battalion, fresh from a tour of duty in Korea, came home today to a tumultuous welcome.

Huge crowds thronged the station as some 500 members of the battalion—those living east of Winnipeg—formed up for an official welcome. Cheers after cheer greeted the soldiers as they appeared in the station concourse.

The battalion is the first to receive a formal welcome as a unit. Previously the army has brought back soldiers from Korea in smaller groups.

Hon. Milton Gregg, V.C. labor minister and honorary colonel of the regiment, welcomed the men back on behalf of the government.

Noted Nova Scotia Senator Dead at 80

LUNenburg, N.S. (CP)—Senator William Duff, 80 died in his sleep at his home here Saturday night.

He was appointed to the Senate in 1936 after having been a Liberal member of the Commons almost continuously since 1917.

He was born in Carbonear, Newfoundland, son of a one-time member of the Newfoundland legislature, and came to Canada in 1895.

Senator Duff's death leaves the Senate standing at Liberals 71 and Progressive-Conservative eight. There is a record of 23 seats vacant in the 102-seat upper chamber.

SEIZE ON PEACE U.K. PAPERS URGE

Editorials Caution All East-West Problems
Cannot Be Solved at Once, Must Come Slowly

LONDON (AP)—Leading British newspapers today urged the western world to seize upon the latest Russian peace-talk offers without delay.

Most editorials cautioned that a full settlement of all the tense outstanding issues between the East and West is too much to hope for now. But the independent Times summed up the over-all attitude of the British press in these words:

"Even if a single area of friction could be regulated, the effort would be worthwhile."

Referring to Pravda's article Saturday replying to the peace program laid down by President Eisenhower in a speech April 16, the Daily Mail declared:

"Snags may be hidden in the milder messages from behind the Iron Curtain. These may be intended to lull us into a false security, to divide Britain from America, or to end the war in Korea because the Reds want to concentrate on Indo-China."

"Yet there still remains something we have not had since 1946—the spirit of reasonableness which has been completely absent from the Communist side."

The independent, imperialist

Daily Express says "no possible harm can come to the West from talking to the Russians. Every possible harm can come from a refusal to talk."

"For such a refusal would enable the Russians to say that while they want peace the West does not."

The pro-Labor Daily Herald urges the Conservative government to "speak out now."

"Our own government in the last few weeks has left the initiative too much to Russia and the United States," the Herald says. "The opportunity is great and Britain should grasp it with both hands."

Bohlen Seeks Clarification From Russia

MOSCOW (UP)—American Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen is expected to seek clarification from high Soviet officials this week on their views toward United States-Soviet Union issues.

Some observers feel that the atmosphere is better now than at any time in several years for United States-Soviet changes. But they agree that progress toward any concrete understanding would necessarily be very slow.

Newspapers which had not previously reprinted the Pravda editorial did so Sunday on their first pages. They also published the text of the President's speech on page three.

That means that the exchange has taken up almost one-half of the total space in the four-page Soviet newspaper for one day.

Many street promenaders stopped to read the exchange from bulletin boards Sunday.

Adenauer in New Move to Avert Crisis

Seeks Conference
With President

BONN, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer suddenly canceled plans today to try to avert a political battle over the European army treaty by winning over the Socialist opposition.

The chancellor had invited Erich Ollenhauer, the leader of the anti-rearmament Socialists, to a conference this afternoon to review the crisis resulting from the refusal of the Bundesrat upper house of Parliament to ratify the treaty providing 500,000 Germans for western defense.

Government officials said Adenauer planned to make a final effort to win Ollenhauer's support for the army pact and the related West German peace contract. With no explanation, the government announced a few minutes before the meeting was to take place that the two leaders would not confer today.

Simultaneously, the chancellor asked for an extraordinary conference with Federal President Theodor Heuss late today. Adenauer is expected to urge the chief of state to sign into law the two disputed treaties even though the Bundesrat voted to withhold its approval until the Supreme Court rules on the constitutionality of rearmament.

The term caddie originated in Scotland. Mary, Queen of Scots, had her golf clubs carried by an army caddie and from cadet evolved caddie.

German Marathon Pianist Flat But Frenchman Sharp

LA HAVRE, France (AP)—Heinz Arntz, German piano marathon champion, collapsed at his piano today after tapping out 225 hours of melodies and such while his French rival went on and on and on.

They started their competition in a local cabaret several million notes ago, with the Frenchman, Robert Sergil, determined to beat the German's record of 244 hours.

Arntz was allowed his brief 50 minutes' rest this morning shortly after dawn, but when he returned to the piano he slid from his stool to the floor and was hauled off to his hotel unconscious.

Sergil kept right on. He must keep going until Tuesday noon, plus or minus a few melodies, to beat the record.

No Plain Sailing Ahead

THE SEAFARERS' INTERNATIONAL UNION (AFL), if it passes a strike vote and carries it into effect, can tie up main coastal shipping in British Columbia. If the strike is prolonged, the union can almost eliminate the Vancouver Island tourist business this year. It cannot completely isolate Victoria and Vancouver Island.

Alternative transportation is available. Aircraft will still carry passengers and probably some cargo. American shipping concerns now connecting this city with U.S. points will presumably continue to ply these waters.

But unquestionably a ship strike at this season of the year could do Victoria, Nanaimo, Vancouver and other B.C. coastal points incalculable harm.

The possible extent of that damage is great enough to raise the question beyond a matter of purely British Columbia concern. The strike vote has been planned, according to news reports, because the union declines to accept the majority report of a federal conciliation board recommending pay increases of $30 a month. Seamen have asked for $50 a month from the three main companies, the CPR, CNR and Union Steamships.

Here again, as in the case of so many other strike proposals, unions come face to face with some hard economic facts. Fares and rates on the ships operated by the respective companies have reached a point at which they encounter stiff competition from other media. Part at least of the growth in air travel into and out of Victoria may be attributed to the charges shipping firms feel they must make to justify their operations.

If labor costs increase and they in turn force higher charges to the traveling public, then it is reasonable to assume more business will be lost.

A progression of that trend could lead to the operation of fewer and smaller ships by the three transportation companies. Under those circumstances the number of jobs available to members of the union would be reduced.

More immediately, assuming United States lines continued to operate if the SIU struck, water passenger traffic would be limited to their capacities, discouraging the full flow of travelers which Victoria and other parts of the Island can justifiably expect under normal conditions.

Once again the public would be caught in the middle—and a public, which finds itself subjected to discomfort, inconvenience and unnecessary expense spends little sympathy on those engaged in a strike.

These are points which should occupy the minds of union members as they consider a strike vote. Demands for an increase above that recommended by the conciliation board could come high to the seafarers as well as being disastrous to most of Vancouver Island and many parts of the Mainland.

A Preliminary Answer

MOSCOW'S UNOFFICIAL REPLY to President Eisenhower's proposals for world peace was couched in mild terms. The usual vituperation was lacking. It is indicative of the state to which Russia's belligerent foreign policy has reduced east-west relations that this fact should be taken as an affirmative, hopeful sign.

Actually the Communists' answer, delivered after a ten-days' study of the United States suggestions, appears to contain little that has not already been said. But at least it expresses willingness to discuss the outstanding global controversies with the west on a "business-like" basis. That is better than a recurrence of the "warmonger" and other charges that decorated most Kremlin pronouncements under Stalin's regime.

The way has been opened for direct talks between the great powers, to be followed by United Nations discussion, if this is acceptable to the United States.

At the same time the Soviet gives no ground. It predicts no agreement on the various premises stated by the President—Korean armistice and settlement, German settlement, Austrian peace treaty, independence for nations now known as satellites, and so on. On the contrary it asserts full intention to insist on the "basic interests of the Soviet people and the interests of other peace-loving peoples."

The right to such a reservation will not be denied in any quarter, but trouble may be expected to arise in the interpretation, for instance, of the term "basic interest." It is certain that the United States and the Soviet Union would have difficulty in agreeing on the "basic interest" of Poland, or Czechoslovakia, for example. To resolve such a problem would be, in effect, to resolve the whole problem of the cold war.

The Russian reply at best may be termed promising. As a White House statement said on Saturday, it is a matter now of awaiting some concrete step which will indicate that the Soviet is in earnest in taking up Mr. Eisenhower's proposal. A ready telltale might well be found in Korea—or Indo-China.

Hands Down—or Thumbs Down?

THE BRASSIEST STATEMENT of the election campaign to date must certainly be that of finance minister Einar Gunderson, who is quoted as saying after his recent nomination meeting that he will carry Oak Bay "hands down."

If the newcomer to Oak Bay really believes this—and the political "game" ordains that he must—he places a low estimate on the integrity of Oak Bay voters. In electing Reeve Archie Gibbs last June, Oak Bay residents rejected Tory leader Herbert Anscomb and demonstrated their faith in a man who had served their community faithfully for ten years. To suggest that this experience means nothing; that Reeve Gibbs' record in one of B.C.'s best-run municipalities is to be tossed lightly aside; that the people of Oak Bay can be seduced by promises of Cabinet representation; is naive in the extreme.

CIL's Cultural Contribution

THE ANNOUNCEMENT THE other night by Herbert Lank, vice-president of Canadian Industries Limited, that his company would sponsor "Singing Stars of Tomorrow" for another season was greeted with a spontaneous burst of applause. As well it should. The Massey Hall climax to this entertaining series, presided over by Dr. Edward Johnson, was a memorable hour of Canadian radio.

Congratulations are due Donald Garrard, the young Vancouver bass baritone, who won the top scholarship award of $2,000. But special praise should be reserved, too, for C-I-L in encouraging young Canadian artists by providing a showcase for their talents. "Singing Stars" sets an example in enlightened sponsorship which other large companies might well emulate.

Dialectics Delayed En Route?

WE NOTE WITH INTEREST that Mrs. Barney Blakey, who frequently speaks for the LPP (Communist) party in this area, has announced her group will contest Victoria seats in the forthcoming election. Their slogan, she says, will be "Stop the sellout to U.S. monopolies!" This is puzzling. Is someone tampering with Mrs. Blakey's mind? Can it be that she has heard of the new Commie line? Is she not aware that the new Russian Lullaby is "Georgi Loves Ike?" And that we're all comrades together? Come, come, Mrs. B. Forswear those harsh slogans! Let loose the dove of peace! Why, we expect you around the office almost any day now with a jar of caviar and some blintzes. We'll have our balalaikas ready.

When Planting Olive Branches

Chips

BY DAVID BROCK

WE all like helping deserving cases, especially when it requires no special outlay, effort or waste of time. And of all deserving cases, what could be more deserving than the case of the poet? He works practically for nothing, and often quite literally for nothing. In fact, most poets work for nothing in more senses than one, having nothing to show for their agony when they pass on. If it is true that most of them write hellish bad poetry, why, then we should feel sorer for them than ever. If some of them are as vain and insulting as a drunken fiddler, we should pity them with all our hearts, and try to make them happier, or try to make them sadder, whichever they choose.

And if the great part of them are utter fools, we should do something a little more constructive than just suffering them gladly. Chesterton said something to the effect that while it is good to suffer fools gladly, it is even better to enjoy them enormously. As enormities, you understand.

I HAVE been helping poets across the street all my life, laughing all the way. (You note that phrase from "Jingle Bells"? I refer, naturally, to the writers of jingles.) I once helped a poet so much, he got cross with me and with his verses and began to brood, and after that he took holy orders, and I believe he makes an excellent parson, so my good deed goes on and on, to the edification of congregations far larger than any group of mere poetry addicts.

In a sense, I gave him a wider public, and a steady one. Though I confess I didn't see quite that far ahead. I did see that some violent change had to come over that man, and it did, and I helped.

SOMEWHERE in an old trunk, where I keep the torso of many a chap I have helped, there are a few of this man's more venomous letters of thanks to me. For vitriol and spite they far outshine his verse. By getting rid of modesty and gratitude, he achieved a kind of hardness that would have been mighty pleasing if there had been any sort of argument behind it. It was very like snatches of Francois Villon in prose, with less energy, maybe, and a bit harder to follow. And Villon was a great poet, if not housebroken, except in the sense that he went in for house-breaking. So you see, my friend (if I may call him that without boasting) had something to him.

I WAS helping another poet only the other day. We were riding in a rumble-seat. Such things still exist, along with poetry, and they are wonderful places for making you sing, if the night isn't too cold. The poet was idly carolling of this and that, as loud as he could, and he suddenly sang "I'm like a ship without a rudder," for no obvious reason. "What should come after that, Dave?" he asked me courteously. "I'm like a cow without an udder," I suggested. "He wasn't sure if he liked that. So I sang him some more, to let him take his pick:

I'm like a ship without a rudder,
I'm like a cow without an udder,
An orphan kid without a mudder,
An only child without a brudder.

I'm like a ghost without a shudder,
A farce without a fuddy-dudder,
A carburetor without a flooder,
I'm like one drink without an udder.

HE said some of these might possibly prove useful to him, and he would let me know at his earliest convenience. But when I began to sing more wildly:

I'm like a clam without a chudder,
Desdemona with ne'er a smudder, and so on, he begged me to stop. He said I was driving him nuts. Well, where would a poet be if he wasn't nuts?

TWO BLACK FALCONS

I WAS in the garden, minding my own business more than Nature's, when there flew past me, very low, two black gerfalcons. (Spell them g-y-r-f-a-l-c-o-n-s if you insist, though it is rather affected of you.) According to Taverner's excellent book, these must be very rare so far south. But I dare say these falcons didn't know that... they'd not kept up with their reading... so they flew on, past my house, and over a good many houses before they reached the empty country which lies half a mile or more inland from my beach. They had come in from the beach, but as I was standing behind the house, I didn't see if they had come along the beach before making a bold alteration inland, or if they had come across the water.

THE black gerfalcons is said to be the most savage and destructive of all our birds. (Maybe I am thinking of all our gerfalcons, not just the black ones, but don't quibble. "Don't spute wif de squinch-owl," says Uncle Remus, and don't spute wif my black gerfalcons either.) I once saw two peregrine falcons, standing calmly on a flat rock on my beach, and though they were undoubtedly tough babies, they hadn't the menace of their cousins. Or, I think, the grace. I have never seen such birds for flight as these two black gerfalcons. The combination of purpose and ease was breathtaking. When I say it very nearly made me want to cry, I hope you'll not suppose I was planning to cry about their next victims.

SUPPORT FOR MR. MILNES

In reference to the recent and much-publicized dispute at the York Theatre, your editorial of April 22 rightly points out that at all costs the show must go on, and rightly lauds the minority who were willing to put it on. However there can be no justification of your inclusion of Mr. B. B. Milnes among those guilty of causing it not to go on.

His situation one hour before curtain time last Saturday night is comparable to that in which the publisher of your paper would find himself were he confronted one hour before press time with an ultimatum from the staff, led by the editor himself, demanding that either the publisher resign, or no newspaper would be printed. What choice would he have? I hardly think the Times would appear on the street that evening.

The point is that whatever justification there was for dissatisfaction, it was completely unethical to use a paying audience, without any regard for its convenience, as a weapon in the resulting dispute. It was not Mr. Milnes who did this. Let us reserve our disapprobation for those who, having broken faith with the theatre's tradition, the York's customers, and their own integrity, deserve it.

THE WINNERS

On behalf of the Victoria High School Central Junior High School Band, I wish to thank your newspaper for the generous remarks made concerning our recent success at the Vancouver Music Festival.

Thanks are also due to Central Junior High School for providing funds enabling their band members to attend.

AVOID THE MESS

Whether one of the two old political parties has a little cash in the kitty, it might pay handsome dividends in votes if a reprint of an article in Maclean's Magazine of March 15 were mailed to every voter in B.C.

The said article captioned "Aberhart, the Man and the Shadow," is a flashback giving details of the astonishing events surrounding the birth of so-called Social Credit Party in Alberta on August 22, 1935, and, for sure, should be very enlightening to B.C. people at this time. We should know how silly this Douglas idea is.

Alberta got itself into one hideous mess on that date and therein remained until the death of Aberhart and the discoveries of large oil production enabled a new and more orthodox administration to pull it out of the fire.

Statements being repeated within Sacred groups here, just as irresponsible as Aberhart at his worst, are not comforting, to say the least, to any citizen who has a brain above his neck, instead of hollow space filled with a jumble of meaningless echoes. Better be careful, Mr. and Mrs. British Columbia, that we don't get into a Major Douglas mess here in this province.

H. V. O'REILLY.

HON. TOTEM-SAN

Ye gods and 'small fish! What a tourist attraction! "Get 'em right here, folks. Gen-yoo-wine Indian totem-poles carved by the Nagasaki tribe, totem-makers by appointment to the Emperor..."

So the white man has teamed up with the yellow to complete the downfall of the red. Well, I suppose they deserve it for trying to resist when we took over the country, but it does seem rather like kicking a chap when he's down, doesn't it?

While I'm on the subjects of Indians and authenticity, I would like to suggest that if the government sends a native Indian to the Coronation (and I think they should), they should send one who will dress in the traditional costumes of the Coast Indians. Those feathered warbonnets affected by Mathias Joe and Baptiste Paul really belong with the Plains Indians, don't they? My vote is for Jimmy Fraser. He seems to have more right to the trip than any of the others suggested thus far.

NATIVE SON.

FINAL WORD

May I have space just to thank Mr. Eckman sincerely for his "inexpressible" pity extended in his letter of April 23, and also to make the comment that if as he says—"No one can join the church" since "Salvation is of the Lord," and the "Lord Himself adds daily to the church such as should be saved;" if this is true then the whole scheme resolves itself into a dictatorship that neither Stalin or Hitler or any one but the "Lord" and Mr. Eckman could ever hope to equal.

Taxes and the Single Man

The radio announced Thursday night that the B.C. Hospital fund this year would have a very large surplus, the first in its unfortunate history. With an election very soon there is not the slightest doubt that the present Social Credit government will try to take all the credit they can for what they will certainly describe as this happy state of affairs.

It was also "whispered" by a high government official, that something would be done for the people (and I think they are not a few) who are unable to pay the so-called premiums (in cold fact a compulsory levy; exactly the same as any other tax).

Let me tell Mr. Bennett one very cogent reason for his large surplus: it is simply this, single persons are being vastly over-charged and that is exactly the reason why so many elderly people especially are unable to pay the extremely high levy imposed on them without undue sacrifice. Every single man or woman has to pay the B.C. government 27 dollars a year or $2.25 per month, for his or her one risk.

But a married man with three children, who has five risks, only pays $7.80 per risk! Further, there is the ever-present and expensive maternity risk which is entirely free to the family man. Not only this, but the present government has recently widened the claims which can be made for dependents!

I would remind Mr. Bennett that the single man or woman is already being heavily taxed to pay for the education of other peoples' children; education being by far the most expensive item on the civic taxpayers' bill. The single individual is further taxed to pay for the thousands and thousands of family allowance cheques which flood the country every month. The family man gets generous income tax allowances for his wife and children (even to university students). What does the single man or woman get? I will tell you, the BILL every time!

I respectfully but most emphatically suggest to Mr. Bennett and his Health Minister, Mr. Eric Martin, that around $15 should be an ample levy on a single person to pay for the hospital care and attention they now receive. What is the average stay in hospital? Eleven days or less? But we certainly do not go to hospital every year or anything like it, and we are still liable to doctors' and surgeons' heavy charges for their services.

I hope many single people will write to Mr. Bennett and tell him now exactly how they feel on this important matter. Can we not organize a body—for unity is strength—in order to press for a reasonable and just levy for the individual? We don't have the companionship of our children and wives, but we certainly do pay for them.

JOHN KENNY.

Laos—A New Danger Point

BY JOSEPH and STEWART ALSOP, From Washington

AS the fateful Korean truce talks are resumed, the hope lingers on in official circles that the Soviets and their Chinese Communist allies are genuinely eager for an easing of world tensions.

But this hope is notably dimmer than it was a few weeks ago.

The main reason for this dimming of hope is to be found in the small, little-known, jungle-covered state of Laos, in Indo-China.

The Communist invasion of Laos may be directly connected with the Soviet-Chinese initiative which has led to the Korean truce talks. If this is so, it may also be that the invasion of Laos and the current Soviet peace offensive, including the Korean truce talks, were planned some time ago, before the death of Stalin.

Both the Chinese and Indo-Chinese Communists began hammering on a new propaganda theme even before Stalin died. The new theme is menacingly reminiscent of Japan's wartime drive for a "Greater East Asia Co-Prosperity Sphere." The Communists have been beating the drums for the creation of a "Greater Thai Area."

This new "Democratic Peoples' Republic" would consist of Laos, which is largely inhabited by Thais, the northern state of Burma, and of course, Thailand itself.

HEARTLAND

Such place names have little meaning to most Americans, which is one reason why the Communist invasion of Laos, which took place after the Soviet peace offensive started, has not received much attention. For the "Greater Thai Area" is in fact the heartland of Southeast Asia. If this area falls into Communist hands, the rest of Burma and Indo-China will be flanked, and the British position in Malaya rendered almost untenable. Southeast Asia, in turn, with its immense reservoir of untapped riches and its strategic situation, is the key to all Asia.

The invasion of Laos by Indo-Chinese Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap's forces is a logical first step in a drive to establish the "Greater Thai Area."

Laos is virtually defenseless. Aging King Sisavang Vong has a few thousand native troops. But the Laotians are a cheerful, indolent, and notably unmarital people, and it is highly improbable that they will put up much of a fight against Giap's hardened guerrilla veterans.

The French are trying desperately to reinforce their Laotian garrison, which amounts to hardly more than a corporal's guard. But reinforcements are possible only by air, and the rainy season, which will transform the Laotian airfields into a sea of mud, soon starts.

RISK INVOLVED

There is a risk involved for the Communist forces, to be sure—the risk that the French and loyal Indo-Chinese will be able to cut off their supply lines at the base. But full Communist control of Laos unquestionably seems a prize worth taking risks to gain.

Laos is a long, thin hand, holding Thailand in its grip, and punching up against Northern Burma. If the Communists wish to establish their "Greater Thai Area" in a hurry, Laos provides the ideal jumping-off place for an invasion of Thailand or Burma.

The above facts serve in part to explain why Indo-China has been on the agenda of the National Security Council for five consecutive meetings of the Council. What is happening in the strange little Indo-Chinese state of Laos may well have as much meaning for the future as what is happening in the truce tent at Panmunjom.

WEATHER SYNOPSIS

VICTORIA'S SUNSHINE RECORD TO DATE, 1953— 401.5 HOURS

SYNOPSIS: A well developed disturbance along the coast brought generous rains over night to an area extending from Los Angeles to Ketchikan and eastward to Calgary and Lethbridge. Only the northern sections of British Columbia remained untouched by it.

This storm will move inland today. Some slow improvement will occur with its passage and skies may even clear temporarily in a few sections. The outlook is not promising as another storm is expected to develop off the coast Tuesday evening.

Too much needless surgery

Taking out normal appendixes, unnecessary Caesarean births, switching surgeons while the patient is under anesthesia—these things do happen, says Dr. Paul R. Hawley, Director of the American College of Surgeons.

In May Reader's Digest, he tells what doctors themselves are doing to fight the unethical practices that still exist despite the high level of medical care in the U.S. today; and advises one best way you can guard against needless surgery.

U.S. Trade Agreements Under Fire

Minority Group Bids for Changes

WASHINGTON (UP)—The reciprocal trade agreements program came under the heaviest attack of its 19-year history today as congressional hearings began on proposals to extend it for another year.

The present reciprocal trade law—the keystone of liberal American tariff policies—expires June 12.

Opponents of the program, who have been in a minority in Congress since its beginning in 1934, believed that in the Republican-controlled 83rd Congress they have the votes to make some substantial changes.

The law authorizes the President to lower American tariffs, within certain limitations, in exchange for similar trade-stimulating concessions from foreign countries. One of the limitations is that no tariff rate may be cut more than 50 per cent below its 1945 level. The full allowable reductions already have been made on most U.S. tariffs as a result of various postwar trade treaties.

Thus an extension of the law, if approved by Congress, is not likely to lead to any sweeping changes in U.S. tariffs during the coming year.

President Eisenhower asked Congress in a special message on April 7 to extend the law without change for another year, so that the executive and legislative branches will have time to make a thorough study of U.S. trade policy.

FATHER, TWO SONS PERISH IN AIR CRASH

HAY RIVER, N.W.T. (UP)—Department of Transport investigators flew here from Edmonton today to learn the cause of a plane crash that killed a father and his two sons.

The RCMP said Clifford T. Kenyon, 39, plant manager for Gateway Fisheries Ltd. of Edmonton, was piloting his Piper cub aircraft on a pleasure flight when it developed engine trouble and crashed a few minutes after he took off Friday night.

His sons, Douglas, 10, and Jackie, eight, died in the crash-up amid mountainous timber country.

Kenyon, who owned the plane, used it to commute between fishermen's outposts in the far north and for making trips to Yellowknife and other centres.

Considering U.K. Envoy

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—The pro-Nationalist China News said today Red China is planning to send its first ambassador to London. The English-language daily newspaper said the ambassador would be Chang Han-Fu, a Communist vice-minister for foreign affairs. Britain recognized the Red regime in January, 1950, and sent a charge d'affaires to Peking.

Peace Lies in Compromise Only, Says Lie

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UP)—Trygve Lie, former secretary-general of the United Nations, says both sides must compromise to achieve a real settlement of the hot war in Korea and the cold war in other parts of the world.

Lie's message was in a farewell address broadcast throughout the world by the Voice of America Sunday on the eighth anniversary of the San Francisco conference at which the UN charter was written.

Lie was succeeded as secretary-general of the UN this month by Dag Hammarskjöld. He will return to Norway soon.

Lie said it is not possible to foresee a Korean settlement except in relation to other Far East issues.

"There can be no settlement unless the people's Republic of China is a party to it," he said. He did not comment specifically on Soviet proposals to admit Communist China to the UN as an aid to peace.

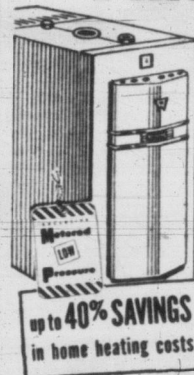

He warned against seeking "unconditional surrender" in the cold war. He said a spirit of compromise will promote settlement of the cold war in Germany and Austria and "all other issues of the cold war that must in time end either in mutual disaster or be resolved in negotiated settlements."

Decision Ends Strike Threat On Railways

OTTAWA (CP)—A possible rail strike threat was removed Saturday in an arbitrator's decision favorable to the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen in a dispute with the railway.

Mr. Justice R. L. Kellock of the Supreme Court of Canada gave a verdict largely upholding the BRT's contention on retroactive application of a 12 per cent wage increase obtained by the union in February under the threat of a general strike.

The decision came as several brotherhood locals across the country were pressing the union leadership to order a strike—which would tie up the railways—to emphasize dissatisfaction at the way the companies proposed to put the settlement into effect.

The main point at issue in the arbitration—which was agreed to by the disputants—was the effect of the 12 per cent increase on wage differential between groups in some types of freight service. The railways objected to a straight percentage increase as tending to change differentials.

California Firm Will Build in Vancouver

VANCOUVER (BUP)—Sale of a downtown business corner in Vancouver to a California shipping firm for erection of a $3,000,000 office building is announced by Harold B. Itter of W. B. Itter and Son Ltd.

The California firm, which preferred to remain anonymous at the present time, purchased four lots at the southwest corner of Pender and Burrard from the Bay Finance Corporation Ltd. for $205,000.

Itter said the purchaser indicated the new office building, in the heart of Vancouver's skyscraper area, would house shipping firms.

London Bellboy Charged With Strangling Woman

LONDON (Reuters)—A 39-year-old bellboy in London's fashionable Kensington district was charged Sunday night with murdering Mrs. Grace Babs Darrington last Wednesday by strangling her with her own nylon stocking.

The accused, John Haskayne, a bachelor from Liverpool, will appear in court today.

Mrs. Darrington—50 years old but looking 35—was found dead by her travelling-salesman husband in her apartment in Paddington, a shabby area heavily populated by single men.

He found her body sprawled across her bed, clad only in a soft green nightgown, and there were signs of a violent struggle. Her husband had been out of town on business.

So far Scotland Yard detectives know this much: Mrs. Darrington visited a London club the night before. Later she was seen in a bar and neighbors heard her enter her apartment at about 11 p.m., evidently without an escort.

Haskayne was charged at the Notting Hill Gate police station. John Christie, 55-year-old office worker now on trial for the strangling of three young women and his wife, also was charged at this station, which is near Christie's sordid rooming house where the remains of six women's bodies were found last month.

25,000 TURN OUT TO VIEW BODIES OF MURDERED CHILDREN

QUEBEC (CP)—More than 25,000 persons during the week-end filed past four open little grey coffins, containing the bodies of four children, victims of an axe slayer.

Georges Hebert, the children's father, has been charged with murder in the death of Rene, nine, the oldest of the four. The others are Louise, seven; Nicole, five, and Gaetan, three. The mother is charged with negligence.

A spokesman for the funeral parlor, in which the city morgue is located, said: "It was amazing." Ten policemen were required to handle the crowd.

Neither of the parents were brought to see the children, and the couple are not expected to see them. Funeral services will be held today.

Campney Hits At Critics of Defense Plans

Peacetime Force 'Biggest, Finest' Says Federal MP

VANCOUVER (BUP)—Ralph Campney, federal associate minister of defense production, replied to opposition criticism of Canada's defense program Saturday.

Speaking on a local radio station, the Liberal MP claimed that this country had the biggest and finest peacetime force in its history.

He accused the opposition of going to "wild extremes" in its criticism, saying that if the conditions they claimed were true, it would "be a terrible indictment on the government." Campney said "the opposite is true."

The minister admitted there was a lack of anti-aircraft guns in Canada, but said the move was deliberate. He explained that the government had "purposely postponed construction or purchase of new anti-aircraft guns because they would be obsolete by the time they were received."

Campney listed the objectives of the defense program "as the provision for the immediate defense of Canada in the event of attack, to live up to our UN and NATO obligation and to establish a well-trained organization around which to build our maximum strength in the event of total war."

77-Year Marriage Broken by Death

STOCKHOLM (AP)—Death has ended one of the world's oldest marriages. The husband, Nils P. Jonsson, 102, died Sunday at Asmundtorp, in south Sweden. His widow, Bothilda, is 103. Neither had ever been outside their tiny home village. They were married 77 years ago, April 12, 1876.

'PLUM' ROLE

Witch Boy Top-Notch Dancer

Joey Harris as "Witch Boy," in "Dark of the Moon," the London Little Theatre production which will be seen at the Royal Theatre Friday, May 8, as part of the Dominion Drama Festival program. Joey Harris is enjoying his role, one of the "plums" of modern theatre, and is a keen student of the actor's art.

He has an enviable record as a ballet dancer. He began serious study of ballet at the age of six and when 15 was accepted as a student dancer in Mia Slavenska's famous company.

Through a lucky accident he was Slavenska's partner throughout one tour. Later he joined Massine's Ballet Russe Highlights and then came under Columbia Concert Bureau for a brief tour of solo performances. In 1946 he was in England with Massine and Baronova and did a concert tour of France, starting in "An American in Paris."

Next autumn he will create choreography for a new ballet for the National Ballet Company of Canada, which will be based on the play, "Dark of the Moon."—Photo by Walter Dixon, London, Ont.

Doctors Transplant Guinea Pig Glands Into Sick Woman

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A woman here is living with glands of a guinea pig transplanted into her body, a surgeon disclosed Sunday.

She was given new thyroid and parathyroid glands in probably the first such transplant of an animal thyroid to a human. It is another bold step toward the goal of some day replacing the lost, tired or disabled glands of humans with new animal or human glands.

The woman, not identified, was given the animal glands three months ago, after her own thyroid and parathyroids were removed because of cancer. The thyroid gland produces thyroid hormone. The parathyroids, two little glands near the thyroid, control calcium levels in the body.

Whether the animal glands are actually working isn't yet known, said Dr. Edward T. Kremetz of Tulane University medical school.

Pulp, Paper Firms Call for Conciliation

TORONTO (BUP)—AFL pulp and paper unions called for conciliation today after a week of negotiations with 14 companies collapsed in a dispute over wages.

Leaders of the 11 unions, representing 15,000 pulp and paper workers in Ontario, Quebec and Manitoba, said the results of Ontario conciliation proceedings would apply also to the one mill in Quebec and one in Manitoba.

The unions are demanding a five per cent wage increase for all workers. The companies have asked for a three per cent wage cut, based partly on the drop in the cost of living.

LEGISLATION PROPOSED TO PROTECT BOXERS

BOSTON (UPI)—A Lawrence legislator today was to file a bill intended to end one-sided boxing bouts, preserve the health of the participants and protect the reputation of the referee.

Rep. John C. Bresnahan said he would file the measure because of nationwide criticism of Friday night's light-weight title bout here in which Jimmy Carter knocked down challenger Tommy Collins 10 times within two rounds.

The Bresnahan bill would require that a fight be stopped when a boxer is knocked down three times in one round and would permit physicians to enter the ring between rounds to examine boxers. Under present Massachusetts law, doctors cannot step on to the canvas until a fight is over.

Eliminations for the finals have been held all winter and Miss Bradley will meet Betty Stubbs at 6:45 for the right to meet Mrs. Walkey's rink for the championship.

This is the last event of the season for the club as the ice will be removed.

Dame Takes Continental Speed Crown

By DON HARRITT
Canadian Press Staff Writer

EDMONTON (CP) — Edgar Dame of Revel, Mass., claimed his third record time Saturday night at the 1953 North American indoor speed skating championships to win the senior men's title, top award in the three-day meet which shattered 19 records.

The senior women's champion was Barbara Marchetti of Berkeley, Mich., also joint claimant to the North American indoor crown with Edmonton's Doreen McLeod, who did not enter the indoor competition.

Dame, who won four of the six races in his class, needed only to place third Saturday night in the 440-yard final to win the title. He placed third in that race but went on to break the record in the five-mile event, one of the sports' toughest.

The 25-year-old speedster breezed around the 16 laps in 75:41.2, eclipsing by one second the 1930 mark set by Winnipeg's Frank Stack, an absentee this year.

Cooke Admits Interest In Brownie Franchise

TORONTO (CP)—Jack Kent Cooke, president of Toronto Maple Leafs of the International League, revealed Sunday night he has been trying for three months to buy the franchise of the American League St. Louis Browns.

"If we had a 30,000 seating capacity at Maple Leaf Stadium here, we'd be able to swing the deal," said Cooke, who also owns a radio station and has magazine publishing interests. "We'd have to form a syndicate to finance purchase of the franchise."

SEVENTH GOLF BROOCH DEFENSE

Margaret Todd of Victoria Golf Club and Shirley Fry of Gorge Vale, made the seventh successful defense of their women's brooches Sunday at Gorge Vale.

The defending pair retained the prizes by scoring a 6 and 5 victory over Mrs. H. McIntyre and Mrs. D. Rhys-Jones of Colwood.

Houbregs' total, which is the highest ever registered here in a senior game, was made up of 17 field goals and seven free throws.

Speedy Les Whitties, who scored 26 points Friday, helped himself to 27 Saturday, the majority again coming on tap-ins.

The Kins, missing Doug Peden and Bill Dobbie but bolstered by the addition of Harry Kermode and Joe Samarin of Alberni and Alan Snowsall of Victoria College, put on a surprisingly strong stand against the power-packed Seattle unit.

Kins were only two points shy of Seattle at the end of the first quarter, trailing 17-9, and continued to hang tough in the second quarter. Seattle holding a slim 48-42 lead at the half.

Visitors Sweep Curling Honors

BY RON COULTER

Victoria's first curling bonspiel concluded play at the Victoria Curling Club's Quadra Street rink Saturday with George Lunn of Nanaimo copping the Ker-Stephenson Trophy and Roy Patrinquin of Calgary capturing the T. Eaton Trophy.

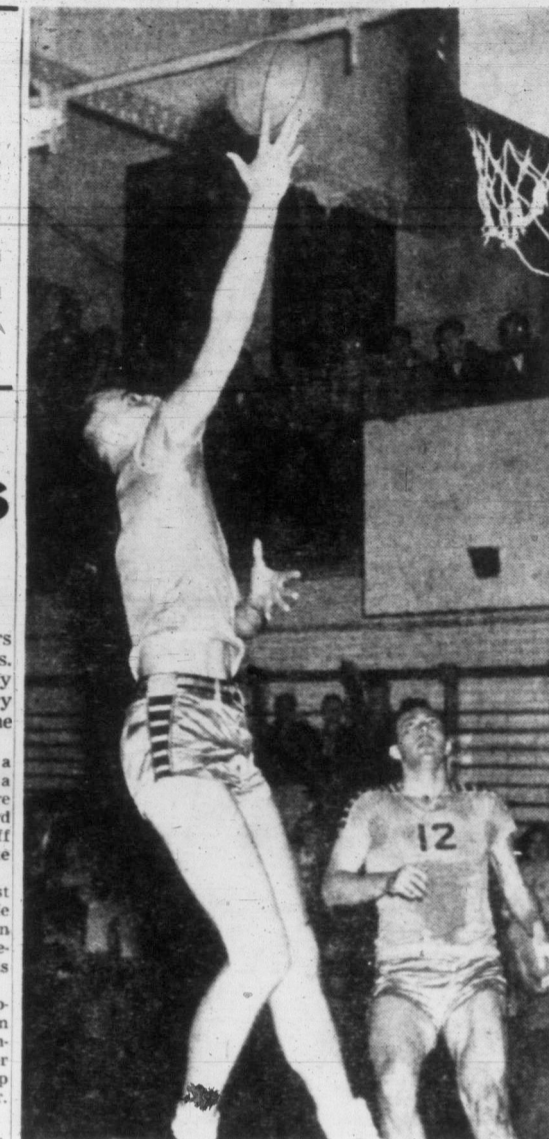

These two rinks, along with Dick Topping of Vancouver and Tom Coates of Vancouver, gave visiting quartets a clean sweep of all events. Topping won the Dominion Hotel Grand Challenge and Henry Birks Grand Aggregate trophies. Friday night, while Coates took the Colist Challenge event.

Lunn defeated Harold Keys of Vancouver, 9-5, in the Ker-Stephenson finals, and Patrinquin quinn gained a 10-8 verdict over Gerald Burr of Princeton.

Lunn built up a lead of three by the 11th end and then played a knockout end coming home for his win. Patrinquin had a much closer match on his hands. He had an 8-4 lead at the conclusion of the sixth end but Burr closed the gap to a single point in the 11th. Patrinquin then counted one in the final end with his last rock for the two-point decision.

Four local rinks, although winning no prizes, gave a good account of themselves. Ross Menelly of the quarter-finals in the Grand Challenge before being ousted by the championship Topping rink while the T. Eaton Co.

This Is an All-American

University of Washington's fabulous Bob Houbregs has gained his fame as a hook-shot artist but the All-American star has more than one feather in his cap. Caught here unlimbering his six foot-seven inch frame for a lay-up, Houbregs proved Saturday night that he has half a dozen ways of putting the ball in the hoop. Watching Houbregs score two of his 41 points is Seattle University's Ray Moscatel. Houbregs was the whole show as his Seattle College All-Stars whopped Victoria Kins 115-82 in second game of a two-night exhibition appearance at Vic High. (Times Photo by Bill Halkett.)

BOB HOUBREGS—ALL-AMERICAN

Hooks Hits for 41, New City Hoop Mark

Bob Houbregs, elusive as a ghost and at times just as unbelievable, redeemed himself with Victoria's basketball public Saturday night and proved, beyond any shadow of a doubt, his right to All-American rating.

The big University of Washington bucket star led the Seattle College All-Stars to a thumping 115-82 victory over Victoria Kins in the second game of a two-night stand that wrote "30" to another basketball season.

Houbregs, who had an off-night Friday, was as hot as a Mexican stew Saturday and tossed in 41 points as his personal contribution to Seattle's landslide offensive.

The hook-shot that made Houbregs' name synonymous with All-American, was swishing in with regularity and the hefty star appeared to be able to score with the shot just about any time he wished. In addition, Houbregs showed great alertness on rebounding, hauling them in off his own board and tapping them in off the Kins' backboard.

Houbregs' total, which is the highest ever registered here in a senior game, was made up of 17 field goals and seven free throws.

Speedy Les Whitties, who scored 26 points Friday, helped himself to 27 Saturday, the majority again coming on tap-ins.

quartet reached an identical position in the Colist event but bowed to Coates, runner-up for major honors.

Les Thofnley, and Glen Walkey were beaten in the secondary event semifinals. Thofnley met defeat at the hands of Patrinquin, who later went on to win the T. Eaton event, and Walkey was downed by Lunn in the Ker-Stephenson semifinals.

Ron Harper's rink from Duncan missed adding to their previous laurels when they bowed out of contention in the winning teams in the grand challenge and Colist semifinals. Harper was the winner of the Duncan and Port Alberni bonspiels earlier this season.

Four of Last Year's Regulars Fail to Place

By DENNY BOYD

Coach Red McMillan opened the lid on the Victoria Shamrocks Sunday and out popped a few surprises.

LEONARD WINS MATCH PLAY GOLF TITLE

VANCOUVER (CP)—Veteran professional Stan Leonard made experience pay off Sunday as he edged youthful Bob Kidd 2 and 1 in the 36-hole final of the city match play open golf tournament.

Leonard, a four-time winner of the event, cut short a stretch drive by Kidd with a birdie duce on the 138-yard, 32nd hole.

Kidd, a pupil of Leonard at Marine Drive golf course, was three up at the end of the first nine holes in the morning round. But Leonard fired a blazing 32 on the second nine to take a 1-up lead at the half-way mark.

The young amateur made a battle of it on the closing holes in the afternoon but fell short. Leonard was four under par for the 35 holes and Kidd three under.

However, the defensive pairings may cause some raised eye brows.

McMillan named Len Scott, Jack Thompson, Tommy Druce and Bill Bamford as his goal-fronting units, Scott and Thompson working as one duo, alternating with Druce and Bamford.

Scott has been with the Rocks since their inception while Thompson, a senior B star, played several games with Nanaimo last year when he was unable to make the Irish. Under the new six-man system used in the league this year, Druce is being converted from a rover into a defenseman where his solid checking can be utilized to the fullest.

$22,500 RICHER

Besselink Hits Golf Jackpot

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Al Besselink of Grossingers, N.Y., dropped a five-foot putt on the 18th green Sunday to win the $35,000 Tournament of Champions by one stroke. He shot 280, eight under par for the 72 holes, to pick up first prize of $10,000.

With the pressure on him for the last three holes after Chandler Harper came in with 281, Besselink shot steady par golf to beat the Virginian. Tied for third at 285 Lloyd Mangrum, Cary Middlecoff, Lew Worsham, and Johnny Palmer.

Harper, who lost his big chance when he hit his ball into the lake on the 15th hole, picked up the runner-up's $5,000.

The scene of the tournament, a first major one in this resort town, was the Desert Inn Country Club, a test of 7,102 yards with par 36-36-72 that proved tougher to handle than most observers had expected.

Besselink won with rounds of 72-68-68-72-280. Harper carded 70-70-71-70-281.

Besselink collected his prize in a wheelbarrow load of silver dollars, more than 600 pounds of them. Also he had bet $500 on himself in this Nevada gambling capital at odds of 25 to 1 which works out to $12,500 and a total take of $22,500.

Irish Ruggers Leave With Empty Stomachs

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Just in time to board their plane for New York, Nash bought up all the restaurant's box lunches and fruit and shoved these, their first meal of the day, aboard the plane with them.

Ward Nash, match secretary for the Southern California Rugby Union, said the visitors stayed at UCLA fraternity houses, where there is a customary week-end recess in meal-serving. Nash said he guessed they'd previously spent their food allowances and they went into the rose bowl game without eating.

Afterward he arranged 21 steak dinners at a Los Angeles international airport restaurant. A chartered bus carrying the Irish players, broke down a mile from the airport, but the stalwart Queensmen were pushing it along the highway when a second bus arrived for them. It got them to the airport.

U.S. Golf Team Named

CHICAGO (AP)—Jim Turnesa and Julius Boros, current PGA and National Open champions, respectively, and five other top money winners were named Saturday to represent the United States in the international golf matches against Canada June 4 at Montreal.

Other members are Cary Middlecoff, Jackie Burke, Sam Snead, Ted Kroil and alternate Doug Ford, listed by the PGA on the basis of priority in accumulated money winnings from Jan. 1, 1952, through April 19, 1953.

The top 10 money winners during the designated period: Boros—$30,405.47, Middlecoff—$38,096.31, Burke—$25,422.29, Snead—$24,692.50, Kroil—$24,099.99, Ford—$23,221.70, Lloyd Mangrum—$22,459.41, Jim Ferrier—$20,906.34, Tommy Bolt—$19,604.34, Ed Oliver—$17,840.84.

McMillan named three forward lines, the most prominent of which is the Archie Brown, Larry Booth, Whitey Severson string which returns intact from last season. Booth will centre the two high-scoring wingers. This line is again expected to be the top scoring unit in the league as it was last season.

The second line has former Maitland Trophy winner Jackie Northup pivoting Arnie Ferguson and Sarge Sammartino.

FERGUSON AT FORWARD

Ferguson, former Rock coach, is being converted from a defenseman to a forward while Sammartino is one of the Vernon contingent that came to the city for a tryout.

The third string will have hustling Harry Irwin, who came on strongly near the end of last season, at centre between veteran Duff McCaghey, returning to the forward line after seeing action at rover and defense, and Jimmy Ranson, who has seen brief action with the Irish in previous seasons.

Last year's regulars Norm Goates, Art Green, Bob Monaghan and Bob Long are missing from the starting line-up but will be given every chance to regain their positions from the rookies.

Shamrock officials stressed the fact that this is the starting line-up for the first game only and every player must fight to hold his position. All players who survived final cutdowns were signed to player forms and will receive their chances to win over any of these positions.

ALL DRESSED UP

The Irish will take to the floor in new adornment for their first game, abandoning their traditional wool sweaters for nylon.

The new sweaters have a green body with white inserts and, in compliance with a new league rule, 10-inch numbers on back and front.

With the large number on the front of the sweater, the Rocks have replaced their large shamrock emblem in favor of an arch of four small shamrocks over the number.

The club's one-time playing coach, who had resigned this position a month ago, scored the goal that enabled United to force overtime against St. Andrews and set up the marker that eventually resulted in the 3-3 tie decision.

A replay of the match will be held later.

Tim Walker gave United a first-half lead on a pretty play with centre-forward Cedric Robb driving a hard shot past goalie Bob Newbold.

Fifteen minutes after the intermission, George Steel tied the count on a long, well-placed drive.

St. Andrews took the lead a few minutes later when Dave Guthrie headed in a corner kick. Milligan, who had been playing on the wing until this time, moved back to centre-forward and inside of 10 minutes took a pass from J. McGee to tie the score, forcing overtime.

Guthrie got his second goal shortly before the switchover in the extra time, again heading home a corner kick.

United netted the final equalizer from the resultant kick-off. Milligan heading to Walker, whose shot was stopped by Newbold. Einer Flaaten rushing in quickly to score on the rebound.

Deacon, Noel Boston, Jim McGhee and Chris Osseltion added singletons. George Holt and Bob Harris were the marksmen for the losers.

Vets' 26 wins set a new record for undefeated games played in organized soccer on the Island. They scored 159 goals and had only 30 scored against them.

A second division exhibition game between Canadian Scottish and Delta Electric was cancelled when Scottish were unable to field a team.

Fun Paraders Volunteer To Split Victoria Sides

The night Victoria went daft, six housewives arrayed in brilliant red bloomers insulted passersby on downtown streets, a soap-box orator attempted to organize the first Women's Party of Canada, a gentleman rapped on 100 doors, crowned rooster-fashion at the residents.

It was May 8, 1950 . . . the first time the nationally-known radio show, "Fun Parade," came to Victoria.

Popular emcee, Roy Ward Dixon and his zany helpers will cause similar antics to be performed tonight, when the show returns to the Memorial Arena.

Quiet, respectable Victorians again will prove to what ridiculous lengths people will go to win some of the 233 prizes the show offers.

"Fun Parade" is sponsored here by the Y's Men's club. Proceeds will go to YMCA boys' activities.

All audience participation will be on a volunteer basis. People fight for the chance to get in the act when they see the prizes.

Nimble Festival Dancers Enthrall Big Audience Saturday Night

By AUDREY ST. D. JOHNSON

Nimble feet and intricate figures in irresistible rhythms; the traditional and the unique, kept a large audience enthralled for two hours Saturday night at Victoria Badminton Hall.

It was the grand finale of the day's sessions of folk and square dancing in the Greater Victoria Musical Festival.

Mrs. Peggy Macfarlane, adjudicating in Victoria for the first time, proved constructive, sincere and encouraging. Her wide experience in her chosen field lent special significance to her warm praise of the work she reviewed during the day.

Speaking of the evening's performances, Mrs. Macfarlane commented that this was as good dancing as she had seen anywhere by similar types of groups.

"How good to see the boys taking part," she exclaimed. "The emotional release afforded by this dancing is excellent for all boys and girls. If there were more of this sort of thing done there would be less delinquency," Mrs. Macfarlane commented, adding that this was indeed, effective living!

She extended to the teachers, whom she described as "an instrument to benefit the talent of your child," warm congratulations on their accomplishment.

Among the competitors, Sons of Norway, received a very special welcome from adjudicator and audience alike. Dressed in authentic costumes, they presented an intriguing dance, "Rhinelander," for which they received 50 marks.

Breathtaking peak of the program was achieved by Mary Isdale Dancers of Vancouver, whose Lochiel Broadwords had a superb dignity and grace and impressive technical perfection.

The solo by Bill Kerr, Dance of a Highland Chief, was an exhibition piece, poised, confident, the acme of grace and precision. This group drew the high mark of the day, winning the open class with 92.

Mount View High School dancers were successful in winning two square dance classes, gaining 90 marks for Grades seven to 12 and 89 for open square dance.

Competitions were interspersed with demonstration performances by groups called from the afternoon session. An Austrian folk medley by Liselle Petter's group was arranged to tell a little story in mime and was cleverly executed. Others included were Margaret Jenkins, School dancing "Carrousel," Black Nag and Swedish Ring dance; Sir James Douglas with a Danish Welcome dance; Monterey, doing Durham reel; Victoria West, gathering Peascods, and St. Ann's Academy and St. Louis' College dancing Corrido.

A complimentary performance was given by St. Margaret's School, who danced a Swiss polka.

"We cannot all be winners but we can all give pleasure and take it from what we do," said Mrs. Macfarlane. Non-winning groups, who nevertheless received high praise and markings within a point or two of top place, were Oaklands School, grade three, Katherine Costain's School of Dancing, group A and B, and the Let's Dance Club.

ISLAND DIGEST

DUNCAN—School children missed their Saturday matinee when the B.C. Power Commission transmission line was cut by a Comox Logging Company shovel loader at Bush Creek, near Ladysmith, at 12:59 p.m.

Saturday shoppers had their afternoon tea by candlelight, since power was not restored until 4:20 p.m.

PORT ALBERNI—A buoyant domestic lumber market has been predicted by Jack Moore, financial secretary of IWA Local 1-85, who listed the projected St. Lawrence sawmill, the Kitimat development and a backlog of residential construction as dominating factors.

LADYSMITH—Mayor Leonard Ryan announced Saturday that $75,000 has been placed in supplementary federal estimates for preliminary work toward construction of a breakwater in Ladysmith harbor.

Associate Defence Minister Ralph Campney informed Mayor Ryan that the extra $100,000 required to finish the breakwater, which will involve a dredging job, will be voted at the next session of the House of Commons.

COURTENAY—Courtenay-Comox Chamber of Commerce has endorsed a request of a delegation from Denman Island Ratepayers' Association that the provincial government that the government investigate the island's present ferry service and approve use of a proposed 64-foot car and passenger vessel.

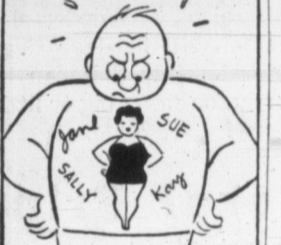

Capt. Jack Bradley told the chamber the present ferry, consisting of a boat with accommodation for 10 passengers and a three-car scow, was inadequate. Six daily trips are scheduled, he said, yet he often makes 12.

CUMBERLAND—Capt. R. McMillan, district cadet officer from Vancouver, will inspect local army cadets at the Cumberland recreational institute hall May 12.

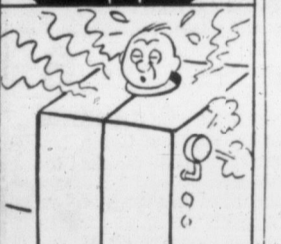

The display arranged will include various aspects of the boys' training and selections by the corps bugle band under direction of Bandmaster William Jackson.

Bennett, Reid Statements Contradictory

The provincial government is sticking with its partial repudiation of severe charges against B.C.'s public school system made during the last session by J. Alan Reid, Salmon Arm Social Credit member, Premier Bennett says.

Mr. Reid is reported to have told a Salmon Arm nominating convention Premier Bennett told him in caucus that he had "done the right thing," and the government supported him.

But the Premier today said the government's position on the Reid statement in the House was given by Education Minister Tilly Rolston right after the controversial speech was delivered.

Mrs. Rolston said then: "I do not accept many of the views expressed by the member on the teaching profession, and particularly in the matter of the suggested political domination of this profession, nor do I personally agree with him. I must at the same time assert the right of the honorable member to express his own views on this subject."

SYMPHONY ADVANCE SALE HIGH WITH RECORD SALES REPORTED

Advance sales of symphony series tickets hit a new high before the subscribers' box office closed Saturday.

Close to 950 season subscriber tickets were sold while the box office was in business. This was nearly 100 better than the record number sold the previous year. More tickets for the 1953-54 season will be offered in October.

During the summer months, the Victoria Symphony will present a series of open air concerts at Butchart's Gardens. The first concert will be given on July 5. Only the regular admission to the gardens will be charged.

Theatre Guild Show to Run Full Week

"The Winslow Boy," produced by Victoria Theatre Guild, opens tonight at 8:15 for a week's run at Langham Court Theatre.

Terence Rattigan's play of a lad unjustly accused of theft, whose parents took his case to the British House of Commons, is based on a true story.

Circumstantial evidence led to the accusation and the story of how the boy's innocence was established makes top-notch entertainment. The play had successful runs in New York and London and was later made into a movie.

While essentially a drama, Mr. Rattigan's play has its share of lighter moments, including a demonstration of the "Bunny Hug," a ballroom dance of earlier days.

The play, which will run to Saturday night, is the Theatre Guild's final offering for the current season.

John Sparks, winner of the Greater Victoria Schools Drama Festival for his part in "The Pie and the Tart," has the lead role.

Did You Ever See a Sheep with Messed-up Hair?

Nature was kinder to the sheep than to humans. She gave sheep hair that stays handsomely groomed naturally. The sheep is the only animal that grows hair—not fur—like humans. Yet it never uses sticky pomades, stiff lacquers or greasy dressings—not even a comb—to keep its hair neat. But the sheep is luckier than humans. Nature gave it LANOLIN to keep its hair radiant, soft and always in place.

Sheep Aren't the Only Ones with Naturally Groomed Hair

LANOLIN is the natural oil that most resembles the oil in your own hair, which most of us have washed away or dried-up by too many artificial treatments. Clear, greaseless NILO-NAL is the closest you can get to pure LANOLIN. NILO-NAL helps replace this vital oil, and leaves your hair naturally, neatly, smartly groomed without that plastered look. A meeting of the Saanich Municipal Employees' Association will be held next Wednesday at 8 p.m., in the Labor Hall, 602 Broughton, to discuss recommendations of a conciliation board with regard to a wage agreement with the municipality and municipal workers.

The conciliation board, in a report handed down last week, recommended against granting a general wage increase to all municipal workers.

The board was only in favor of granting wage increases to truck drivers, crane truck operators, cement finishers and bulldozer operators.

A union official said he did not know yet what members of the association thought of the recommendations.

Whitehorse Youth On Trial for Murder

WHITEHORSE, Y.T. (BUP)—Twenty-one-year-old Donald Smith goes on trial in the Yukon territorial court here today for the murder of a part-time taxi driver in August, 1952. Smith, accused of the slaying of Ralph Causee after he had hired the taxi, is being defended by Mayor John Cuclenaere of Prince Albert, a well-known Saskatchewan barrister.

Club Fellowship Ideals Held World Peace Key

Principles of fellowship and friendship practiced in such a club as The Revellers could do much toward world peace if extended on a world-wide scale. This was the message A. H. Sharpe, president, brought to the 25th anniversary banquet of The Revellers at Olde England Inn Friday. He told the 34 members present—some from out-of-town for the occasion—that they had kept together for 25 years in harmony, despite varying views and opinions. "If such a spirit could prevail in the world, it would be a big step to world peace."

Organized as a service club, The Revellers have been inactive on this score for some years but kept together with monthly dinner discussion groups. They are now exploring avenues of service for the future.

The eight living members of the group's 10 founders are still with it. Archdeacon A. E. deL. Nunns said grace. Toasts were proposed by C. W. Newbury, K. J. Davis and F. Dudley Wickett and responded to by B. C. Gillette, W. H. Sturrock and E. D. Robbins. Bernice Ryall, at the organ, supplied music.

BIG FREIGHTERS
GOTHENBURG, Sweden (CP)—Trend toward ever-bigger freighters is reflected in Swedish shipbuilding figures. Several vessels of 34,000 tons are planned by a Gothenburg firm which recently delivered the world's largest combined tanker and iron ore carrier, the 26,000-ton Tarfala.

Hi-Y Delegates Examine Purpose Of Organization

"Hi-Y Looks at Its Purpose" was the theme of the annual northwestern area Hi-Y, Tri Hi-Y conference held here Saturday and Sunday.

Following registration Friday afternoon, the 100 delegates were entertained at a banquet in the Knights of Pythias Hall by J. Gough, inspector of Victoria schools, who addressed the group on "Youth's Responsibilities."

Discussion groups on youth's responsibilities in the community and school took place Saturday morning while delegates toured the Parliament Buildings, Museum and Totem Park Saturday afternoon.

Saturday night there was another banquet, with Dr. W. G. Wilson speaking. A dance followed the banquet with girls of the Victoria Y-Teens attending. Sunday, the group continued discussions, followed by a vesper service in the Mural Room of the YMCA, with H. A. Dee, vice-principal of Victoria High School officiating. A conference summary wound up the three-day program at noon Sunday.

U.K. TROOPS END 250 YEARS IN BERMUDA

HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP)—To the sound of bagpipes, the last garrison of British troops in Bermuda embarked Saturday on the liner George for England. Their departure ended more than 250 years' association between the British Army and Britain's oldest self-governing colony.

LADYSMITH—A shipment of baby clothing, totalling 130 items, has been forwarded to the Women's Volunteer Service in England for food relief. Collection was made by the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion here, with Mrs. E. H. Peers and Mrs. Allan Carey in charge.

Work Opportunities More Plentiful Here

Jobs became more plentiful here last week due to requests for additional men from the construction, logging and tourist industries, according to C. A. Mudge, manager of the National Employment Office.

Many of the jobs were filled, but the logging industry is still on the lookout for experienced men, Mr. Mudge said. These included chokermen, boom doggers, hook tenders, knee bolters and millwrights.

He said the automobile trade is also seeking tradesmen. Jobs exist for body men, mechanic, front-end alignment man, spray painter.

Jobs available in other trades include floor tile and lino layer, glazier and sheet-metal worker.

The Kipling Society will meet Wednesday at 8 p.m., at 317 Cook Street, with a special Coronation program to follow the business session.

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

A news story says "There were a lot of blushes—22, to be exact—when a boy was declared the winner of a cherry pie baking contest. The red faces belonged to 22 girls who were beaten at their own game by Devere Lawrence, a 17-year-old high school student."

Wait'll Devere is exposed to the comments of his Teen-age pals.

Then you'll see some blushing that's REALLY blushing.

When Newton was bonked on the bean by an apple, and thus was enabled to pass a law of gravity, he must have felt something the same thrill as came to me yesterday.

And I am sure that Archimedes, leaping from his bath (before he'd finished washing his neck) to announce the discovery of his Principal, could have been no more excited than I.

For yesterday, there came to me the Between Times Theory of Good Old Summer Times.

As usual, at least partial credit goes to My Favorite Wife, who started the argument which led to the discovery.

My Favorite Wife was complaining about Daylight Saving Time. She said she didn't believe in tampering with nature; and besides, what would she do with all the daylight saved by Daylight Saving Time?

She said it would be all right if she could deposit the daylight saved in a savings bank, and draw it out next winter when it was needed.

Well, I sprang hotly to the defense of Daylight Saving, pointing out the advantages to workers who want to relax on the golf course or beaches or in their gardens after a hard day's work.

The argument began to get a little strenuous, so, as is our domestic habit, we decided it was time to compromise.

The way we were going to compromise is, we will have Daylight Saving in the evening, and Standard Time in the morning.

And thus the Between Times Theory of Good Old Summer Times was born.

It is the greatest invention since the discovery of the wheel.

I am now going to explain it to the boss.

I have now explained it to the boss.

Turns out the Between Times Theory of etc. is (or was) the shortest-lived invention in history.

No other candidate can make that statement.

A Yates Street resident who likes to lie in the sun mustn't do it any more... without any clothes on.

Early Saturday morning, he crashed into a light standard on the old street car circle at Rippon and Midland Roads, Uplands, with an estimated $1,000 loss.

Quick action by firemen prevented the spread of flames, which did minor damage to the apartment of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Dawson.

No response has yet been given repeated pleas for rented quarters for a family of 11 who are facing eviction here. ### Johnson Bridge Lifts for Largest Ship Yet

The largest ship ever to pass through Johnson Street Bridge in the 31 years since it was installed went through at 11 a.m. Saturday. Freight Ss. Evgenia Chandris, under tow to Island Tug & Barge Ltd., was shifted from Esquimalt Harbor to anchorage at the old CPS millsite, deep in the Inner Harbor. The U.S.-built Victory-

The site includes property known as the "Holly Farm." A large part of the property overlooks a secluded beach.

CRUSADER DUE FOR RELIEF IN FAR EAST

A Halifax-based destroyer will sail Wednesday to relieve HMCS Crusader, Pacific Command, now on duty in Korean waters.

Crusader is expected back at her Esquimalt base in approximately nine weeks, arriving early in July.

Two tribal class destroyers, HMC ships Iroquois and Huron, will leave Halifax Wednesday for their second duty tours off Korea.

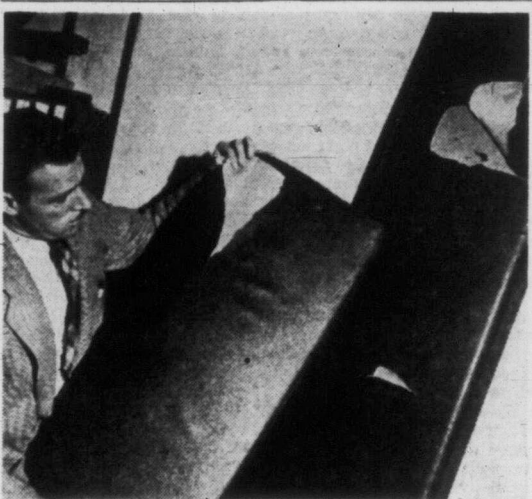

HMCS Haida, of Atlantic command, will be relieved at the same time as Crusader.

The voyage from Halifax to war station takes about six weeks and Crusader will need another three weeks to cross the Pacific to this coast.

Commanding officer of the ship is Lt.-Cmdr. J. H. Bovey, and most of the officers and crew are from Victoria and other Western Canadian points.

Crusader is a sister ship of HMCS Crescent, now at HMC Dockyard in early stages of conversion to an anti-submarine destroyer escort, similar to HMCS Algonquin. The two destroyers were built for the Royal Navy, lent to the RCN in 1945, when they were commissioned, and officially turned over to Canada as gifts from the UK in 1951.

Eager Inquiries Pouring in Already As Plans for Kiwanis Village Shaped

Eager inquiries are pouring in to Kiwanis Village authorities from elderly Victoria couples who want homes in the recently announced $216,000 project here. It was learned today.

Club president Glenn Hope said no applications can be accepted at this time, however.

He added that since the plan was formulated nearly two years ago, constant and unflagging interest has been shown by senior citizens here. "I have a drawer full of letters," he said, "and people phone and drop into my office continually." Other Kiwanians report the same.

show of interest, feel it proves the need of the venture.

Kiwanis past-president, Eddie Mallek, who has been closely associated with the project since its inception, disclosed that when the homes are available they will be awarded on a merit basis.

Thieves Take Big Risk for Small Return

Burglars apparently interested only in money netted a little change in week-end break-ins, city police reported.

They broke into Dowell's Cartage and Storage Ltd. premises, 1117 Wharf, and other offices in the same building and emerged with only about $1 in silver and pennies.

Panes of glass were removed from skylights on the roof of the cartage firm. Three doors were forced inside leading to storage rooms and the office was searched but company officials report they have found nothing missing.

The dollar in change was taken from the office of George Wheaton, where all drawers were ransacked. The money was in a stamp box. About $10 worth of stamps were not taken. Entry was made by breaking a window leading to the office from the roof of Dowell's.

A window was forced to enter the National Film Board office, but nothing was disturbed. Unsuccessful efforts had been made to jimmy a filing cabinet.

Government Blamed

Complaint of Herbert Vye, 1846 Kings, that his truck did not have a signalling device when he bought it from the provincial government drew a smile from Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court today. "You had better take that up with the government," the magistrate suggested. Vye was found guilty of failing to have the signalling device and was fined $5.

SHOPPING GUIDE

New Plastic Scouring Pad Makes Dishwashing Easier

By PENNY SAVER

There is a new scouring aid on the market that is really pleasant to use in the dishpan. Described by the manufacturer as being made of new "wonder-mesh," this cleaning aid does the work of dish rags, mops and scrapers. It cleans dishes off quickly and won't scratch china or silver or hands! It is made of connected strands of plastic and is easily kept clean, for with a swish under the tap it is fresh as new. Well worth 25 cents.

For after-dark wear one local shop is displaying an attractive group of fancy bobby pins. Made of non-tarnish rhodium plated metal and studded with rhinestones, these hair pins come in pairs and sell for $1.50 for two. Several designs to choose from and all very good looking and practical too.

Here's something to take home to Father after your next trip to town (soften him up after buying that new hat!) I was amazed to learn from the salesperson (a man) that eight out of ten boxes of chocolate ginger are sold to men, and not to be taken to their best girls either! Made in Edinburgh, this yummy confection costs 79 cents for half a pound.

Did I just mention new hats? I could go forever about the delightful bits of flowers and straw and this and that that are being shown just now, but being a practical soul I shall tell you today about a perky jockey cap that you can get to match any authentic plaid suit or skirt you own. Really a wonderful hat to have for almost any day-time occasion, it will solve your hat-for-the-suit problem for now and be just right when the fall season rolls around. Ready-made or tailored, $9.50.

Those plastic draperies that are so easily cleaned and keep fresh looking almost forever are available now in a local shop for nurseries and young children's rooms. The designs are clear and pleasingly colored and should attract all the little folks. Sold in sets, the drapes are 84 inches long, the valance is 24 inches wide by eight deep, and they are priced at $1.98.

AS WE LIVE

Married Woman Infatuated With Lad Seeks Divorce

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, PhD

One of the greatest mistakes people can make is to act impulsively when their happiness or that of their children is at stake. That is why I am advising the writer of this letter to "sit tight" and make no decisions for the moment. He says:

(Q) "I have been married for 17 years to a woman I love very much. About three months ago she told me she did not love me any more and that she had fallen in love with a fellow 20 years old. She is 33 and I am 35. Do you think I am foolish to keep on hoping that this is just a flirtation and that I can win her back or would you advise me to let her go? We have three children, ages three to 12 years, who would be hurt if she left. Would I be wrong in stepping out of her life, seeing she feels this way? Where there is no love in a home, there can be no happiness."

(A) You are correct in saying that where there is no love in a home there can be no happiness for anyone. But I question whether there is no love in your case. Your wife, I am sure, would be unwilling to throw away everything she now has for another man. It sounds to me like a temporary flirtation which will pass in time.

This young man may seem very glamorous to your wife and she is flattered by his attentions. But I doubt very much that he has any serious thoughts about marriage. Your wife is not only too old for him but he would certainly hesitate to take on the responsibility of three stepchildren, even if you paid all their expenses.

Make it very clear to your wife that you have no intention of granting her a divorce. She has no grounds for one and you must feel that her responsibility is to go on making the right kind of home for your children. Taking them off to live with a man who is barely more than adolescent would certainly not be providing the kind of home they need.

Let her know too that she must assume the care of the children. You cannot support the family and take care of the home and children too. When this young man realizes that he is not free to live with him he may lose his interest in her.

If you have a personal problem, write Elizabeth Hurlock in care of this newspaper.

Baskets of spring flowers formed the setting in St. John's Anglican Church, the bride entering on the arm of her father. Two layers of gossamer net over silk taffeta composed her gown which was made with a strapless bodice and worn with a jacket of white lace, featuring a small Peter Pan collar and buttoned down the front.

Her veil of embroidered net with hand-rolled edge, was held in place with a coronet encrusted with beads, seed pearls and rhinestones. She carried red roses and lily of the valley in a cascade bouquet.

The bride was attended by her two sisters as matron of honor and bridesmaid, while small twins Mary and Marcia Reynolds were flower girls in floor-length dresses of blue taffeta with bandeaux of sweet heart roses in their hair and carrying baskets of the same. Mrs. Lavern Johnson and Miss Carol Slavin wore pink strapless dresses of net over taffeta with matching jackets. Their flower girls wore cascade bouquets of mauve stocks and rose pink carnations. Norman Murphy was his brother's best man and ushers were Alec Stewart and Lavern Johnson. Frederic Chubb played wedding music.

Connaught Institute, Superior Street, was scene of a reception and had been prettily decorated for the occasion. A three-tier wedding cake was cut and a toast to the bride proposed by C. C. Pete Campbell.

Departing for a honeymoon in Portland, the bride changed to a navy blue wool dressmaker suit with which she wore red accessories, a light grey and white check shortie coat and corsage of white carnations. Mr. and Mrs. Murphy will make their home at 324 Dallas Road.

Toastmistresses Would Have Sweepstakes

Table topic, "Should Sweepstakes for Hospital Benefits Be Legalized in Canada?" conducted by Mrs. A. Pohl at last dinner meeting of Victoria Toastmistresses' Club, resulted in the unanimous decision of members that sweepstakes should "definitely" be legalized and an effort put forth into having this matter put before the general public on a regular election ballot or by means of a plebiscite.

Mrs. Helen Simpson presided, and club hostess was Mrs. Pat McKinty. Tables were decorated with narcissi and white tulips.

Mrs. B. Baylis introduced and welcomed guests who were Mrs. J. Knott, Mrs. A. Crowe and Mrs. L. Mead, a visitor from Port Arthur. Ont. Club representative, Mrs. I. Warren, reported on the council meeting

Joy Davis Exchanged Vows With G. D. Crabb in Tabernacle Church

A wedding gown of French nylon lace over net and satin, handmade by her mother, was worn by Joy Delight Davis for her marriage Saturday night to Donald Graham Crabb, Victoria, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Crabb, Seattle, formerly of this city.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Davis, Vancouver, formerly of Victoria, was given away by her father in the ceremony performed by Rev. C. B. Smith and Dr. J. B. Rowell in Glad Tidings Tabernacle.

Standard baskets of iris, carnations and tulips flanked the bridal party. Music was played by Mrs. Joan Goodwin; a solo, "The Wedding Prayer," was sung by Miss Norene Parker, and during the signing of the register the choir rendered selections led by Dick Goodwin.

A sweetheart neckline with small Elizabethan collar was a feature of the bridal gown. The lace was parted at the back of the skirt to reveal a train of nylon net over satin. A coronet of lily of the valley held the fingertip veil of illusion net and the bride carried a white Bible topped with red roses.

Mrs. Val Ranson, matron of honor, and bridesmaids Miss Jean Hagen and Miss Jean Davis were gowned alike in blue, with bolero jackets brocaded satin and full net skirts. They carried white bibles topped with pink roses. Little Miss Gwendolyn Adolph, Vancouver, was flower girl wearing white lace over blue taffeta, and carrying a basket of carnations and tulips. Best man was Wallace Crabb and ushers were Melvin Morley and Clarence Davis and Ernie Conneroe.

A reception was held at Business and Professional Women's Clubroom, Government Street. A wedding cake set amid a cloud of pink tulle with violets and roses, centred the bride's table, with white candles and vases of violets and roses.

Mrs. Davis, wearing a grey dress with pink and grey accessories, and Mrs. Crabb in an aqua blue gown, assisted in receiving guests. Toast to the bride was proposed by Rev. P. S. Jones.

The young couple left for a motoring trip to California, wearing matching navy blue suits. Mrs. Crabb had selected pink accessories, with navy shoes and purse. They will make their future home at 665 Gorge Road.

Early Discovery of Glaucoma Essential

Glaucoma is one of the serious eye diseases and an important cause of blindness. It has been said that of the 200,000 blind in the United States about 20,000 have lost their vision because of glaucoma.

Glaucoma is rather uncommon before the age of 40 but becomes increasingly frequent with advancing years. When the diagnosis is made early and proper treatment is started all through the head. The hardness of the eye is caused by blockage of the flow of fluids within the eye so that liquid accumulates in the eyeball.

In glaucoma, there is an increase in pressure inside the eyeball. It may start as an acute attack with severe pain in one eye, slight swelling of the eyelids with watering of the eye, and infection of the eyeball which looks like a general inflammation of the eye.

There is, of course, great loss of vision. The increased hardness of the eyeball can usually be felt easily. The pain is extremely severe and often is felt all through the head. The hardness of the eye is caused by blockage of the flow of fluids within the eye so that liquid accumulates in the eyeball.

It should be emphasized that in glaucoma of the chronic, simple type may come without sight, glaucoma is an important disease which must not be neglected and which requires individual examination visual attention. Each patient must have the special care which his particular case demands.

Failure to follow advice or to continue conscientiously with the medicines or other treatment recommended may result in blindness. Diagnosis should be made and treatment begun at the earliest possible moment.

Sometimes an operation is necessary to preserve sight. The several kinds of operations used for glaucoma all have the aim of making new paths for the drainage of the eye fluids.

ALWAYS FOLLOW ADVICE

It takes courage when one is told an operation is necessary, but a brave attitude helps in the final result.

Women on Mt. Athos Shock Greek Officials

SALONIKA, Greece (AP)—Newspaper photographs of three women shocked Greek church and government officials Saturday. They were snapped on Mount Athos, where women and all female animals have been banned for 1,000 years.

Athos, almost completely surrounded by the Aegean Sea, is inhabited by monks who have dedicated their lives away from the eyes of women.

Share or Lose Resources, MP Warns

OTTAWA (CP)—Angus MacLean, PC Queens, has told the Commons that if Canada doesn't share her resources voluntarily, they may eventually be taken from her by force.

Some 14,500,000 Canadians were "sitting on a vast, abundant area" and could not long maintain "this dog-in-the-manger attitude."

The world's population was increasing by 40,000 a day so that it will have doubled to 4,600,000,000 in 70 years and increased to 18,000,000,000 in 200 years.

Mr. MacLean said over-populated areas are demanding more living space and it would be "childish to expect us to hold out against that pressure for any length of time."

Thus immigration was a world problem which had to be tackled with courage. It was one of redeploying entire populations to the common advantage.

Camoun Gyo Club Officers Installed

Camoun Gyo Club was host to fellow club members from Vancouver Island and the lower mainland Friday night at its installation dinner and ceremony at Chez Marcel.

Installed as president was Bill McColl, well-known city golfer. The ceremony was conducted by Robert Brimacombe, district governor, and Greg York, both of Vancouver.

Others who took office were Gerry Bryson, vice-president; Jack Gillis, secretary; Jim McRae, treasurer; Wallace Dickson, Jack Hawkes, Leslie Osborne, Dr. Vincent Smith and past President Lawrie Wallace.

In the crowd of 150 were Gyo members and their wives from clubs in Victoria, Nanaimo, Duncan, Vancouver, Burnaby and Hollywood.

Unions Urged to Provide Leadership in Community

Union locals should avoid complacency, self-satisfaction, and isolationism, and provide a "reasonable degree of community leadership," president of Canada's largest transportation union said here over the week-end.

Harry A. Chappell, 49, president of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees and Other Transport Workers (CCL), was speaking to a meeting of executives and shop stewards of the union's four Island divisions.

He urged locals to take part in community activities such as education, municipal affairs, and welfare work.

"Constructive contributions to this work would be welcomed," he said.

Compulsory check-off of dues begun four months ago had boosted membership to 35,000, and increase of 4,722, he said, claiming the union aims for a membership of 40,000 within a year.

He said the union must formulate a policy on wage boosts before September, the choice being between across-the-board or percentage increases.

We are sometimes asked why there are different prices for funerals. With us the difference is in the cost of the casket... the service and attention to the countless details is always complete regardless of what the family feel they can afford.

Japanese Liberals Roll Up Impressive Senate Victory

TOKYO (AP)—Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida's Liberal party rolled up an impressive triumph in the Senate House of Councillors election, possibly strengthening Yoshida's position in his fight to keep his job.

The Liberals had nailed 28 of 97 seats by 5 p.m., and independents who frequently vote with the Liberals had rolled 25 more. The Leftist Socialists had 11 seats, the next highest total. The small but vocal Communist party didn't win a seat.

It was Japan's second national election in five days. At stake were 128 seats in the 250-seat House of Councillors, which can delay but not veto legislation approved by the powerful Lower House.

Honorary Degree

Dr. Alfred Rive, Canadian High Commissioner to New Zealand, will deliver the annual congregation address at UBC May 20 and receive an honorary degree of doctor of laws.

Dr. Rive graduated from UBC in 1921 with a BA degree after serving in First World War with the Western Universities Battalion. He joined the department of external affairs in 1930 as third secretary, after post graduate and teaching work at California, Cambridge, Eng., and later at Yale.

Dana Wilgress, undersecretary of state, will deliver the congregation address on May 19 and receive an honorary laws degree.

CREAM OF THE AMATEURS

Drama Groups Here Competing For All-Canadian Championship

BY AUDREY S.T.D. JOHNSON

Victorians have been growing more and more festival minded in the last few years.

One-act play festivals, revived since the war, have been gaining ground at the box office, building up to this year, when, for the first time, the Dominion Drama Festival which has been moving about mostly in eastern Canada, has come as far west as possible and made Victoria its headquarters for 1953.

For a full week, starting next Monday, the Royal Theatre stage will play host to the cream of Canada's amateur drama groups. Eight of the 13 regions into which Canada is divided for purposes of the DDF, will present their winning productions in competition for the all-Canada championship represented by the Calvert Trophy and the $1,000 cash award.

And if you believe there is any well defined border between the amateur theatre at its best and the professional, a visit to any one of these productions will undoubtedly change your outlook!

CLASSICAL AND MODERN
The week as a whole should provide ample proof that amateur thespians can challenge their professional counterparts in any style of production.

Opening with Shakespeare's "Othello," Monday night, a handsome production, artistically mounted and intelligently directed by Elizabeth Sterling Haynes, one of the foremost Canadians in the field, the festival will provide clear illustration of what is being done both in the classical and modern style.

As an outstanding example of the latter, Regina Little Theatre will present, on Tuesday evening, the powerful and moving John Steinbeck play, "Burning Bright."

The theme of this piece is the age-old desire of man for immortality on earth through his sons. Steinbeck has used a clever device to illustrate the universality of this force. Four characters only weave the fabric: the man and his wife; the friend, wise and perceptive; a kind of conscience to both; and the other man, the outsider.

The same set of characters appear in three different settings: as circus folk in the first act; farmers in the second, seafarers in the third.

Each act takes the story of a woman's great love and a man's great yearning a step further, until a tremendous climax of emotional power is reached and finally resolved in a brief final scene.

Simply and effectively constructed by a master of the

Playground Group Spurring Oak Bay Expansion Scheme

Plans to institute a new playground will be discussed at the annual meeting of the Oak Bay Playground Committee Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Oak Bay Municipal Hall.

E. Greville-Jones, committee chairman, has announced that over-crowding at the Willows Beach playground last year has forced the committee to consider space near the fire hall for a summer program this year.

Efforts will be made to have parents contribute $1 for every child taking part in the program. Last year the municipal council donated $800, PTAs at Monterey and Willows each gave $50, and the balance of $321 was made up of gifts from parents and other private citizens.

POLITICAL POT

Myrtle Bergen, LPP, Cowichan-Newcastle; Robert Strachan, CCF MLA in last House, Cowichan-Newcastle; Tony Gargrave, youngest member of last Legislature, CCF, Mackenzie; Jack Baikie, president of B.C. Truck Loggers, Liberal, Comox.

W. A. Scott of Oak Bay, Independent candidate last June, is reported to be a possible Social federal candidate in Victoria.

The nomination race in B.C. has reached about the halfway mark.

Total of 103 candidates have been named with 800,000 leading the pack with 36.

CCF have nominated 28, Liberals 18, PC 12, LPP 6, Independent 2 and Independent Labor 1.

P. W. De P. Taylor, Esquimalt PC president, has urged his members to vote at least three choices on the alternative ballot June 9.

"Vote for three candidates in order of preference even if it hurts to vote for Social Credit," he said. "A voter loses the full force of his ballot by plumping."

Premier Bennett says Manitoba's Liberal Progressive government fears Social Credit.

This fear, he contends, is responsible for the Manitoba government setting its election date for June 8, one day ahead of the B.C. election.

"This date has been set deliberately," said Premier Bennett, as a piece of political manipulation. It follows exactly the same line of strategy the Socialists used in Saskatchewan last year."

Criminal Libel Has Its Ups and Downs at Ottawa

OTTAWA (BUP)—The Commons committee studying a proposed revision of the Criminal Code had its ups and downs before it set a penalty for criminal libel.

The committee voted once to amend the section on libel to provide for a maximum fine of $25,000. A few moments later it voted out all reference to fines in the section. In between, $10,000 was suggested as the penalty.

As the committee left it, any person who publishes defamatory libel can be imprisoned for five years.

Fines can be levied under another section of the code to suit the case, without any maximums or minimums.

Chlorodent—in 60 days— brought new mouth health to 158 children at Boys Town

At Father Flanagan's Boys Town, Chlorodent proves twice as effective!

In the first major research on chlorophyll* toothpaste, dentists at famous Boys Town, Neb., discovered that Chlorodent brings "striking" improvement in mouth health.

The dramatic Boys Town study of gingivitis—a wide-spread mouth disorder—proves that Chlorodent can bring healthier mouths to millions!

Boys Town co-operated in this research wholly in the interest of child health. Over 400 boys took part. Most of them had gingivitis. One group brushed their teeth only with Chlorodent. A similar group used only a fine white toothpaste.

Results of this research appear in The Journal of Periodontology: In just two months, 78% of the boys using Chlorodent showed dramatic improvement in mouth health. Chlorodent was proved twice as effective as the white toothpaste for quickly reducing gingivitis!

Chlorodent combats decay, too. See your dentist if mouth troubles persist. Use Chlorodent regularly! Buy it today!

*Water soluble chlorophyll

University dental experts compared the cleansing action of white, ammoniated and chlorophyll dentifrices. 395 comparisons proved that Chlorodent's patented cleansing agent kept teeth cleanest!

Scientists compared Chlorodent with a nationally-known non-chlorophyll toothpaste—found Chlorodent's special chlorophyll formula kept twice as many people free from mouth odors for up to four hours!

Lever Brothers Limited guarantees Chlorodent to do more for you than any other dentifrice—to give you a

FINAL BULLETINS

B.C. Man on Casualty List

OTTAWA (CP)—A Korean casualty list today included one man killed in action and four men wounded in action. The last list was issued April 25.

One B.C. man, Sgt. L. M. Prest of Vancouver, a member of the PFCLJ was among the wounded in action. His wife's address is Calgary.

No Talks on Defense Highways

OTTAWA (CP)—The government has rejected, for the time being at least, a request for a federal-provincial conference on defense highways, partly because such roads do not rank high on its defense timetable.

The conference was requested by Premier Manning of Alberta.

Saskatchewan Probe Dropped

REGINA (CP)—Attorney-General J. W. Corman said today his department has decided not to prosecute under evidence submitted during a Saskatchewan legislature committee's investigation of J. O. Rawluk's "kickbacks" charges.

"It is the opinion of the law officers who advise me and of myself that there is not sufficient credible evidence available to the Crown to warrant a prosecution under the section of the Criminal Code of Canada," Mr. Corman said.

Cominco to Lay Off 200 Men

TRAIL, B.C. (CP)—A layoff here within the next few days of about 200 Cominco employees was forecast today in the face of a cut in construction and maintenance projects and continuing weak metal markets.

TRUCE TALK HOPEFUL DESPITE PW SPLIT

Reward New UN Tactic

Psychological Move By Gen. Mark Clark

TOKYO (UP)—Gen. Mark V. Clark tonight offered $100,000 to the first Communist pilot who will deliver a Russian-built MIG-15 jet fighter to the United Nations in Korea.

The dramatic offer, applying also to "ther Russian-built jet combat types," had a double-barreled purpose:

- 1. To wreck morale among Communist fighter pilots.
- 2. To obtain a late-model MIG for technical study.

The offer was made in radio broadcasts beamed to North Korea and Red China, and in leaflets dropped in northwest Korea, mainly in "MIG Alley" near the Yalu River border with Manchuria.

REFUGEE PROMISED

It offered $50,000 per MIG, with a bonus of $50,000 for the first pilot who accepts. Pilots were promised political refuge and assistance in going to any country they might desire.

In announcing the unorthodox scheme, Clark's headquarters said enemy pilots probably would have to begin keeping an eye on each other as well as fighting UN planes.

"The enemy," the announcement said, "has found it necessary to send out patrols to watch other ground reconnaissance patrols to keep individuals from surrendering to the UN command forces."

Big City Bakeries Boost Loaf To 15 Cents at Retail Levels

Retail price of bread produced by two large city bakeries is now 15 cents, instead of 14.

The one-cent raise came into effect today. Others are expected to raise their prices in the next few days.

Bakers blame increased milling costs, higher freight rates, and wage demands of union help for the increase.

Both Weston's and Canadian Bakeries have instituted the new price. McGavin Bakeries' to date are unchanged.

Just 10 days ago a hint of the price boost came from Vancouver, where the spokesman for a large baking concern said an increase was imminent. In a canvass of the major baking concerns in Victoria, any knowledge of such a development looming was denied.

Larger locally-owned bakeries meet the change with varying views.

"Our prices are not up yet, but they probably will be in a few days," said one operator. "All bakeries will increase their prices. They should have been up months ago, and they'll be out of business in a year if they don't take the increase."

Another said he had no intention whatever of raising prices at present.

"I'm my own boss, no one tells me what to do, my overhead is low, and I'm contemplating no raise in price," he said. "There is no need for it," he said. "The price of flour is lower than it was a year ago."

Shooting War Promised by Anti-Douks

APPLEDALE, B.C. (BUP)—Slocan Valley residents gave the government one more week today to provide police protection against fanatical Doukhobors or suffer the consequences of "a shooting war."

The valley homesteaders had set Sunday as the deadline for the government to put a stop to Doukhobor arson raids and dynamite attacks but approved a seven-day "truce" after a mass meeting by 100 irate citizens.

A resolution drawn up at Sunday's meeting was forwarded to provincial Attorney-General Robert Bonner and Federal Justice Minister Stuart Garson. It read:

"We, the non-Doukhobor residents of the Slocan Valley, demand the provincial government to provide us immediately with adequate protection and strongly urge that a special detachment of police be stationed in the Slocan Valley."

One resident said, "A shooting war may break out" if the government failed to heed the demand.

The meeting came on the heels of the 24th fire set in the recent outbreak of terrorism and violence in the fear-filled Nelson district. A store belonging to reformed Doukhobor Peter Plotnikoff was levelled by fire Saturday night at Krestova.

Residents of the valley have been patrolling at night armed with heavy-calibre rifles and shotguns to protect their homes against possible arson.

The RCMP blamed a hard core of 200 radical Sons of Freedom Doukhobors for the arson, while the freedomites in turn blamed "outsiders" for the acts.

Twenty-two homes, a community hall and a store were destroyed in the west Kootenay Doukhobor country in the latest outbreak of violence in the area.

UN Rejects Reds' Reparation Plans

PANMUNJOM, Korea (UP)—United Nations and Communist truce negotiators split today on four points concerning the repatriation of prisoners under an armistice, but there was growing hope a compromise may be shaping up.

The points of disagreement were:

1. Which neutral country shall take charge of Communist prisoners who refuse to go home.
2. Whether these prisoners shall remain in Korea.
3. How long the prisoners shall remain in custody.
4. What is to happen, in the end, to those who refuse repatriation under any circumstances.

But it was believed in some quarters that a compromise was possible under which the UN would accept a Communist proposal to make India the neutral custodian of anti-repatriate prisoners and the Communists would agree that the prisoners be kept in Korea until their status has been determined finally.

Li-Gen, William H. Harrison, senior UN delegate, rejected at a 52-minute truce meeting today a six-point Communist proposal by which prisoners who refuse repatriation would be taken to an unspecified country and kept there for six months. After that, the status of those who still refused to go home would be settled at a political conference.

Harrison said this plan was designed merely to keep anti-repatriate prisoners in a foreign country until, "exhausted and discouraged," they realized they must either give themselves up or face "endless captivity."

But after the meeting, Harrison emphasized that the truce negotiations are just getting under way again and there is "no real basis for assuming the Communists will not negotiate in good faith."

The next session will be held at 11 a.m. Tuesday.

"Operation Little Switch," the exchange of sick and wounded prisoners, continued on a one-way basis today along with the truce talks.

The UN handed over 499 more Communist prisoners at the exchange centre here, including 50 mental cases. It will take until Friday for the delivery of the last 6,033 Communist prisoners the UN promised to free. The Communists announced

Sunday that their part of the exchange has been completed with the handing over of 684 UN prisoners as against 605 they promised originally to free.

The Communists have not yet replied to a UN proposal for a continuing exchange of ailing prisoners until the war ends.

In Tokyo, an army official said the first plane load of freed American prisoners will be at home in the United States by the end of this week.

The freed GI's are being flown to Tokyo as fast as possible after preliminary examinations in Freedom Village and in Seoul. In Tokyo, they are being prepared for the long flight home. It was expected the freed men will be flown first to Honolulu and then to San Francisco.

The truce negotiations got underway again Sunday for the first time since Oct. 8, when the UN forced a recess because of the Communist insistence on forced repatriation.

Communist Plan in Detail

At the first resumed session, the Communists submitted their "compromise" plan. It provided:

- 1.—Prisoners who accept repatriation shall be exchanged within two months after the conclusion of an armistice.
- 2.—Within the next month, prisoners who refused repatriation shall be sent to a neutral country.
- 3.—Within the following six months, the Communists shall be given the opportunity to try to induce the prisoners to go home.
- 4.—Those who agree to go home shall be repatriated speedily and without obstruction.
- 5.—The disposition of prisoners who still refuse to go home after the six-month period shall be decided at the political conference which is to be held under the armistice, to settle the overall issues resulting from the Korean War.
- 6.—Each side shall pay the costs of sending its prisoners to a neutral country, keeping them there, and repatriating them.
- 7.—In offering this plan, the Communists rejected the UN plan which is to make Switzerland the neutral custodian, keep the
